REPORT

OF THE

STATE BOARD OF CHARITY

PART I

GENERAL WORK OF THE BOARD

GENERAL WORK OF THE BOARD.

Powers and Duties.

The State Board of Charity supervises the State Hospital, the State Farm, the Lyman School for Boys, the State Industrial School for Girls, and the Massachusetts State Sanatorium; and will also have the supervision of the Massachusetts School for Crippled and Deformed Children as soon as it is established. The Board discharges sane inmates of the State Hospital and the State Farm, and executes the laws relative to the release on probation of prisoners at the State Farm; investigates questions of State settlement of poor, supported, relieved, and buried by cities and towns, and of sane inmates of the State institutions; directs aid of unsettled poor by cities and towns; transfers sane paupers from one institution to another; sends paupers to the places, within and outside of the State, where they belong; maintains and cares for juvenile offenders, neglected and dependent children coming into its custody through court commitment and otherwise; administers the laws concerning abandoned infants and infant boarding houses; visits children supported by cities and towns and city and town paupers supported in families; visits and reports on city and town almshouses, and enforces the law regarding the retention of children in almshouses; visits and reports on the several county truant schools; prepares and publishes statistical tables regarding city and town paupers; receives and publishes the reports of charitable corporations throughout the State; carries out the provisions of the contract with the United States regarding alien immigrants falling into distress and becoming a public charge.

The Board is empowered to delegate any of its powers and duties to, and execute any of its functions by, delegates or committees appointed for the purpose.

So far as the institutions are concerned, except for its power of discharge of inmates of the State Hospital and State Farm, the functions of the Board are supervisory only; in other respects its work is partly executive and partly advisory.

The manner in which the duties of the Board are distributed among its Standing Committees and its several offices is sufficiently shown in the by-laws, which will be found in the latter part of this portion of the Report.

(See Revised Laws, chapters, 30, 46, 80, 81, 83, 84, 85, 86, 88, 125; Acts of 1902, chapter 213; Acts of 1903, chapters 188, 231, 233, 308, 330, 334, 355, 402; Acts of 1904, chapters 216, 241, 302, 356, 363, 395, 446; Acts of 1905, chapters 115, 159, 162, 240, 244, 269, 285, 303, 348, 464, 474; Acts of 1906, chapters 341, 389, 413, 489, 501.)

Organization.

There have been two changes in the membership of the Board since the close of the official year ending September 30, 1905. Mrs. Codman resigned, on account of ill health, May 16, 1906, and Dr. Hitchcock, whose term of office expired June 7, 1906, declined reappointment.

Dr. Hitchcock has seen continuous service on the Board since its establishment as a State Board of Charities in 1879. His fellow members desire to record here their appreciation of his devotion to the work, as well as their recognition of those personal qualities which made him a welcome presence at the meetings and an associate whose withdrawal is greatly to be regretted. His willing and efficient service will be long remembered.

A member of the Board for twenty years, Mrs. Codman leaves a record of attendance apparently equalled by no other member; while her hearty interest, not only in the more important proceedings of the Board, but in its least details, her comprehensive knowledge of the laws and methods governing the administration of the charities of the State, her sound judgment, and her untiring activity have rendered her service of almost inestimable value. Not only has she endeared herself to her immediate associates, but she has proved herself a friend of the Board's employees also.

Dr. Hitchcock was succeeded by Jeffrey R. Brackett of Boston, and Mrs. Codman by Abraham C. Ratshesky of Boston. The membership of the Board is now as follows: —

Leontine Lincoln, Fall River, Chairman.
Laban Pratt, Boston, Vice-Chairman.
Charles F. Donnelly, Boston.
Miss Frances Greely Curtis, Boston.
Charles H. Adams, Melrose.
David F. Tilley, Boston.
Charles R. Johnson, Worcester.
Abraham C. Ratshesky, Boston.
Jeffrey R. Brackett, Boston.

The Standing Committees of the Board are as follows: —

Committee of General Visitation and Inspection: Mr. Pratt, Mr. Tilley, Mr. Donnelly, and the Chairman.

Committee on State Adult Poor: Mr. Johnson, Mr. Pratt, Mr. Adams, Mr. Ratshesky, and the Chairman.

Committee on State Minor Wards: Miss Curtis, Mr. Tilley, Mr. Adams, Dr. Brackett, Mr. Ratshesky, and the Chairman.

Committee on Inspection of Almshouses: Mr. Tilley, Mr. Pratt, Miss Curtis, Mr. Johnson, and the Chairman.

Committee on Finance: The Chairman, Mr. Pratt, Mr. Adams, Mr. Ratshesky.

The Chairman of the Board is, ex officio, a member of each of the Standing Committees.

The Executive Committee consists of the Chairman, the Vice-Chairman, and the Chairmen of the Standing Committees.

The Superintendent of State Adult Poor is Joshua F. Lewis, M.D.; his deputies are Frank W. Goodhue, in charge of the in-door poor, and George B. Tufts, in charge of the out-door poor. The Superintendent of State Minor Wards is William P. Derby, M.D.; his deputies are Bertha W. Jacobs, in charge of the older children, and Sarah M. Crawford, M.D., in charge of the infants. John D. Wells is Clerk and Auditor of the Board. In addition to these officers the Board regularly employs a paid force of thirty-five men and thirty-four women, and receives the gratuitous services of sixty-five auxiliary visitors and one hundred and one almshouse visitors, all women, and sixty-four probation visitors, all men. The names of the paid employees, with their several occupations and their salaries, and also the names of the unpaid visitors, will be found in the latter portion of the Report.

The State Out-door Poor.

The Statutes provide that before any bills for the support or relief of the unsettled poor by cities and towns can be considered, notices of the cases shall be sent to the Board; and, in accordance with these laws, 11,669 such notices were received, during the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906,[1] from 233 cities and towns, on account of 22,984 persons; a net decrease of about 3 per cent. from the previous year. Of these notices, 8,607, concerning 10,600 individuals, were on account of persons too sick to be removed (including 954 notices, concerning 1,205 individuals, on account of persons sick with dangerous diseases); 714 notices, concerning 3,027 persons, were for wife-settlement cases; and 2,348 notices, concerning 9,357 persons, were for temporary aid and transportation. Of the total number of notices above stated, 1,567, concerning 5,134 individuals, were in cases on account of which a previous notice had been received during the year.

Cases of Sick State Poor.

The number of sick State poor notices received was 8,607. These 8,607 notices were sent by 197 cities and towns, concerning 10,600 persons, of whom 8,691 were represented as being too ill to be removed. This number shows a net increase of the number of notices over the previous year of about 8 per cent., and, as compared with the official year 1903–1904, a net decrease of about 3½ per cent. The largest number of notices received in any one month was 795, in January; and the smallest, 469, in October. The number of persons shows a net increase of about 4½ per cent., as compared with the previous year; and of persons actually sick and requiring medical attendance a net increase of about 8 per cent. Of these 8,607 notices, 4,579, or about 53 per cent. of the whole number, were from the city of Boston, viz.: 4,354 from the Boston City Hospital, 145 from the Institutions Department, 9 from the Board of Health, 1 from the Carney Hospital; 67 from the Boston Lying-in Hospital, and 3 on account of persons aided at their homes.

[1] Under the old law, the official year of the Board ran from October 1 to September 30; but, by the provisions of chapter 211 of the Acts of 1905, the Board's official year is made identical with the new fiscal year of the Commonwealth, viz., from December 1 to November 30. It becomes necessary, therefore, to account for the two extra months in this Report.

The number of visits made by the officers of the Board, in the investigation of these 8,607 notices, was 16,750. As a result of these investigations the Overseers of the Poor were directed to discontinue aid in 2,076 cases, — in 2,043 on account of the recovery of the patient sufficiently to permit his removal, and in 33 for other reasons manifest to the Board. In 334 cases all aid was refused, — in 333 because, at the time of the application, the patient could have been removed without danger, and in 1 for other evident reasons. There were 6,968 cases investigated by the visitors; and in 507 cases settlements were found, concerning 738 persons.

By order of the Board 24 persons were sent to the State Hospital. Among those reported as sick there were 707 deaths.

Dangerous Diseases.

Of the 8,607 notices previously stated as received relative to the sick State poor, 954 were on account of "smallpox or other diseases dangerous to the public health," and provided for 1,205 persons, of whom 1,002 were patients. These notices were from 48 cities and towns; 493 being for cases of diphtheria, 246 for scarlet fever, 174 for measles, 30 for smallpox, 4 for whooping-cough, 3 for chicken-pox, 2 for typhoid, 1 for leprosy, and 1 for mumps. In 106 cases settlements were found, concerning 205 persons.

There were 8 additional cases of smallpox reported, in which no claim for reimbursement was made by the notifying city or town, for the reason that the patient either had a settlement in some city or town in the Commonwealth, or was able to pay his own expenses, thus making investigation by the Board's officers unnecessary.

Wife-settlement.

The number of notices received was 714, from 64 cities and towns, concerning 3,027 persons, of whom 396 were sick. These figures show a net decrease in the number of notices, as compared with the previous year, of about 27 per cent.; and as compared with the year 1903–1904, a net decrease of about 21 per cent. Of these 714 notices, 252, or about 35 per cent., were from the city of Boston. There were 147 new cases investigated by the agents of the Board, and 8 settlements were found. Of the 3,027 persons previously mentioned, 2,313 were acknowledged as settled, and as 8 settlements were found among the 714 alleged State charges, the whole number aided by the Commonwealth was 706, of whom 273 were sick. The number of visits made in these cases was 938. As a result of the visits, the local authorities were advised to discontinue aid in 5 cases.

The statute provision that all sick State paupers aided by cities and towns, whose health would not be endangered by their removal, are to be sent to the State Hospital, is disregarded in a large number of instances by the local authorities, — often through the professional zeal of the attending physician, or in the financial interest of the hospital concerned, — with the expectation that the Commonwealth will pay the expenses of care in the local hospital. The Board, however, refuses to recognize such claims unless it is shown, by an examination of its medical visitors, that the condition of the patient is not such as to permit of his safe removal. In the State Hospital every patient receives the careful attention of medical experts, and is thoroughly well treated and cared for. It may be noted in this connection that while most of the city and town hospitals in the State have a number of free beds, it is doubtful if any of them are ever occupied by patients without relatives or home, for whose care the State is responsible.

Cases of Temporary Aid.

The number of notices received was 2,348, concerning 9,357 persons, from 166 cities and towns. The largest number of notices received in any one month was 595, in January; and the smallest number was 91, in May. The whole number shows a net decrease, as compared with the preceding year, of about 24 per cent., and as compared with the year 1903–1904, a net decrease of about 34½ per cent. Of these notices, 220, or about 9½ per cent., were received from the city of Boston. The number of visits made under all these notices was 3,154. There were 830 cases investigated by the officers of the Board, and 144 settlements were found, concerning 562 persons. As a result of visitation, aid was discontinued in 259 cases, and in 14 cases aid was refused. There were 35 persons removed to the State Hospital; 39 persons refused to be so removed, and further aid was declined.

During the year, bills for the transportation of 295 persons, under the temporary aid law, amounting to $2,044.83, were allowed. Of these 295 persons, 38 were sent to European countries, viz.: Austria, 5; Azores, 12; England, 9; France, 2; Ireland, 1; Italy, 7; Syria, 2; 110 to Canada and other British Provinces; 147 to other States, viz.: Connecticut, 35; Georgia, 1; Illinois, 1; Maine, 8; New Hampshire, 20; New Jersey, 6; New York, 56; Pennsylvania, 8; Rhode Island, 2; Vermont, 10.

It is gratifying to report a substantial decrease in the number of notices received on account of temporary aid, generally known as State out-door relief. No division of the Board's relief work better represents existing industrial conditions than this, and none requires greater discrimination and vigilance, that the unworthy may not profit by the bounty of the State. The poor must surely not be allowed to suffer, and the law providing for their relief and support is wise and beneficent. But, in the opinion of the Board, the amount of this assistance may be still further reduced, not only without injury to the needy, but to their final benefit. The initiative, however, in these cases rests, under the law, with the Overseers of the Poor. It is for them to determine in every instance whether a given individual or family shall enter upon a career of pauperism, which often continues for generations, or whether measures of prevention shall be taken at once. Excepting in rare cases of emergency, no family should be aided until the most rigid and careful investigation has been made of family relations, church and social connections, and opportunities for employment, — in brief, until all reasonable means are exhausted to prevent the giving of pauper relief. In too many cities and towns it is the custom to aid first and investigate afterwards; and in many instances no investigation is ever made. The almoner of every city and town should be in touch with the requirements for help of each manufacturing, mercantile, and contracting establishment in the community, so that when the applicant for aid presents himself, employment suited to his capabilities may be ready for him. Undoubtedly the best elements of every community will render hearty support in this work. These suggestions are commended to the serious attention of the Overseers of the Poor, in the belief that their general adoption will contribute largely towards the accomplishment of the end desired.

The following table shows that of the 2,348 temporary aid notices received, 1,203 were received from the ten largest cities in the Commonwealth, and that these cities vary greatly in the distribution of public relief.

Expenses of Support of Out-door Poor.

The bills examined by the Superintendent of State Adult Poor, on account of cases of sick State poor, wife-settlement, dangerous diseases, temporary aid, and burials, were in number, amount, and allowance as follows: —

Classes of Cases	Bills	Claim	Allowance	Deduction
Sick State poor:—

Penikese Hospital.

As stated in the last Annual Report of the Board, this hospital was opened for the reception of its five patients November 17, 1905. The necessary construction and equipment were completed practically within the limits of the original appropriation of $50,000. On account of the isolated location of the hospital, the cost of labor and transportation of materials has been considerably greater than it would have been were the institution on the main land.

The hospital has now a total force of five salaried employees, viz., the superintendent, a farmer and boatman, one man and one woman attendant, and a woman housekeeper. The running expenses are about $5,000 per annum.

There was some difficulty in obtaining an adequate supply of water at first, but with the addition of a watershed to the reservoir, and the construction of a new well, it is expected that the supply will now be ample.

The island is exceedingly fertile, and capable of producing all the vegetables, hay, corn, etc., that will be required.

Condition of the Patients.

Frank Pina, the first case called to the attention of the Board, has shown marked improvement. The inflammation of his nose has disappeared, and his face is much improved. He has a good appetite, and helps willingly in the work on the island.

John Roderick, the other Portuguese, is very sick. He has shown no improvement at any time, and is slowly dying.

Goon S. Dub, the Chinaman, known also as Willie Goon, is much improved. He is able-bodied, very contented, and willing to work at such labor as he is capable of performing.

Yee Toy is somewhat better physically, and is a good worker.

Mrs. Barros has shown a steady improvement, both mentally and physically, and, if a recovery from the disease is possible, hers seems to be a promising case.

All the lepers on the island are State charges, having no local settlement in Massachusetts. The Board has been recently notified of a sixth case, Charles W. Beals, having a settlement in Hyde Park; and he is now cared for at Gallops Island. As soon as practicable, however, he will be removed to Penikese and cared for there at the expense of the town of Hyde Park, at the rate of $20 a week, or about the estimated per capita cost of the patients already there.

Dr. Edmonds, the Superintendent, reports as follows upon the treatment: —

After nearly three years' experience in the treatment of leprosy, with a very limited number of patients, aided by the most recent text-books on the subject, and the reports of medical observers in various parts of the world, it is our opinion that there is no known specific for the cure of leprosy. The best known medicament and perhaps the one most used in chaulmoogra oil. We have used it with varying success. Mrs. Barros and Yee Toy cannot take it. Roderick's stomach rebels against it after a few days, even with the smallest doses. Pina and Lee Goon bear it very well for a time. They have taken it with very good effect in from five to thirty minim doses. We have obtained very good results from the administration of strychnia, which we regard as the prince of tonics when properly used.

For broken down skin eruptions, ichthyol, rubbed up with lanoline and vaseline, after bathing with a solution of sulpho-napthol, invariably proved successful in healing the ulcers. The arms of Frank Pina and the face of Yee Toy, which broke out in a number of places a short time ago, bear good testimony to this mode of treatment. At the present time there is not a leprous ulcer, commonly called a running sore, on any of the patients. A running sore is the popular idea of leprosy. Nothing could be wider of the mark. In our opinion, where such a condition exists it is because the patient is not cared for.

The last few months we have given very little to the patients in the way of medicine, and have been watching the effect of good food and out-door work. Pina, Toy, and Goon have been working out in all seasonable weather, helping in the construction of the buildings. The result has been a marked improvement in their general appearance, and in their morale. We propose to utilize the services of all the patients who are able to work in our farming operations the coming year.

In this connection, we may mention the report of Dr. Eugene H. Plumacher, American consul at Maracaibo, Venezuela, since 1878, who sent to the State department in September last an exhaustive report on the subject of leprosy, based on his thirty years' experience in the study and treatment of the disease. He had opportunities of seeing and treating a large number of cases, and the government of Venezuela placed ten cases under his special care for experimental treatment. He expresses his conviction that without an abundance of nutritious food to build up the system there will never be good results from the treatment of lepers at Maracaibo. He is firmly convinced that the disease is not contagious, but believes in its heredity.

We believe that many cases of early leprosy can be cured by proper diet, occupation, and surroundings not lacking in hygiene, aided by such tonic treatment as may suggest itself to the physician. In this respect the disease very much resembles tuberculosis.

During the year a number of experiments have been reported with the X ray, with varying results, but we do not anticipate that the results will justify an extensive use of this method.

The use of leprolin has been discontinued in India, although many claims of cure have been made. Our own experience with Pina certainly seemed to warrant a further trial. Though not cured, he improved greatly under the treatment.

Children in the Care and Custody and under the Supervision of the Board.

Number of Children.

At the close of the last official year, September 30, 1905, there were 3,518 children in the care and custody of the Board, viz., 273 juvenile offenders and 3,245 neglected and dependent children. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 1,078 children were received, viz., 66 juvenile offenders and 1,012 neglected and dependent children; and 790 were discharged, viz., 79 juvenile offenders and 711 neglected and dependent children; leaving, November 30, 1906, 3,806 children, viz., 260 juvenile offenders and 3,546 neglected and dependent children. Of the 3,806 children, 1,178 were in families without board, 2,441 in families with board, and 187 in the State Hospital and in other institutions, not penal, for special care and treatment.

In addition to these 3,806 children, the Board had under supervision and visitation November 30, 1906, 345 inmates of the Lyman School for Boys, 221 inmates of the State Industrial School for Girls, 598 boys and 373 girls in the custody of the Trustees of the Lyman and Industrial Schools, outside of the schools, 67 children in the State Hospital, who were either young infants with their mothers or else under hospital treatment, 647 inmates of the county truant schools, and about 1,100 [1] children supported at the expense of cities and towns; making, as nearly as can be ascertained, a total of 7,157 children in the care and custody and under the supervision of the Board.

Children in Care and Custody.

Children may be committed by courts to the custody of the Board, as delinquent or wayward, or by reason of the neglect of their parents. Children may be taken by the Board, in its discretion, because of the poverty of their parents, through the medium of the Overseers of the Poor; or, if infants, when abandoned by parents or given up as illegitimate. All these children remain in the care and custody of the Board until they are twenty-one years of age, unless discharged before that time, by vote of the Board.

[1] This is a rapidly fluctuating class of children, and it is difficult to ascertain the exact number on a given date. Visits were actually made in the cases of 1,168 children reported by the local authorities, but a number of them had been removed before the time of the visit.

Children under Supervision.

The Board has supervision without custody of the following classes of children: children committed by courts to the Lyman or the Industrial School, including those placed out from the Schools; inmates of the county truant schools; all children in institutions or families under the charge of city or town authorities; children in the State Hospital.

Court Attendance.

In addition to the work of supervision, and of caring for children who are either committed to or taken by the Board, there has been for many years the duty of court attendance. The law provides that whenever the court believes that a child should be punished by being sent to a public institution, or committed to the custody of the Board, it may notify the Board to send its agent to be present in the interest of the child. Many courts, however, have been in the habit of notifying the Board in cases where there was no question of the child being sent away; and in the past fourteen months, 5,113 cases were attended in 67 courts throughout the State, although but 783 of these children were sent to institutions or committed to the custody of the Board. The agents of the Board also attend hearings in cases of neglected children. There were 1,184 such cases during the year, and 395 neglected children were committed to the Board. These cases are prepared and brought into court by agents of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and vary greatly in number in the different courts of the State.

Disposal of Children.

When juvenile offenders, boys, are committed to the Board, they are either sent directly to Mrs. H. E. White's at Ludlow, or to the temporary home in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Hale at Wellesley.

Mrs. White has a farmhouse, with accommodations for 22 boys, in Ludlow Centre, where she takes the boys who need special discipline and more care than they would have in the average boarded home. The boys receive the same regular daily instruction that they would get in the public schools, although naturally great results are not to be looked for in this respect, with a shifting class of boys whose ages range from eight to sixteen years. The average length of stay for these boys is three months, after which they are either returned to their homes or put in some family, — preferably in the country. A simple life of regular hours and occupation, with motherly care and reasonable discipline, is what the boys receive. It is a notable fact that in the eleven years that Mrs. White has received boys, during which time 665 have come under her care, she has had no deaths, and not one case of serious illness.

The home at Wellesley receives 15 boys, for shorter periods. The place is intended to be a convenient clearing-house for boys whose homes are being changed for any reason. Few juvenile offenders are sent there.

Mrs. Fuller's home in Wakefield, Mrs. Gerry's in Cliftondale, and Miss Devereaux's in Boston, receive the same kind of temporary inmates, girls and small children for the most part; while the Nursery, an apartment of five rooms in Roxbury, receives practically all the babies.

The homes where children are placed are generally average country or suburban homes, where they will get the normal family life, which, from whatever cause, has been denied them at home.

New Law regarding Delinquent Children.

The legislation of 1906 (chapter 413) provides new methods of dealing with juvenile offenders, so that they shall be treated as "delinquent children" and not as criminals. The form of complaint and the methods of procedure are changed. In the new proceedings the penal powers of the courts are lessened to some extent, but the correctional powers are greatly enlarged, and the probation officer is given a much more important place than ever before, with new duties, powers, and responsibilities.

Under the old law, if the court was of opinion that a juvenile offender should, if guilty, be sent to a public institution or committed to the custody of the Board, it was required to notify the Board, which, by one of its agents, had an opportunity to investigate the case, and to attend the trial, in the interest of the child. This provision was made before the courts had probation officers. Many of the courts notified the Board of all juvenile cases.

The new law imposes upon probation officers the duty of investigating all juvenile cases, but provides that if the court shall be of opinion that the interests of a child require the attendance of an agent of the Board, and shall so request, an agent shall attend the trial.

The transfer to the probation officers of the duties formerly performed in part by the State agents is accompanied by a provision giving the Board authority to supervise the probation work for children and to make inquiries regarding it. With a view to securing greater uniformity in the administration of the new statute, especially of its probation features, the Board last summer appointed Mr. Warren F. Spaulding to temporary service as supervisor of probation work for children. He has visited the courts having juvenile cases and conferred with judges and probation officers; and he has prepared a manual containing the new law, for the use of court officials and others, and a form of card record for the use of probation officers. He has also met with considerable success in an effort to arouse a local interest in certain communities for the purpose of securing for probation officers the coöperation of volunteers to assist in the care of probationers.

It is gratifying to be able to report that the new law has been put into operation with very little friction, and that the new methods bid fair to be a decided improvement upon the old ones. There is lack of uniformity in the methods of the courts, but it is believed that this will be lessened by the supervision of the probation work, which will bring the best methods of the best courts to the attention of all. Any additional cost of probation officers for children will be more than offset by the saving to institutions of the expense of maintaining children, some of whom may be now committed unnecessarily.

Adoptions of Children.

While the greater part of the children in the custody of the Board are not eligible for adoption, their parents being alive and awaiting their return, a small number, through orphanage or desertion, are constantly available for this purpose. Applicants for children to adopt are obliged to furnish acceptable references as to their standing in the community, and must satisfy the Board that they are fitted in every way to bring up the wards of the State, and give them the advantages that other children in their community enjoy. The applicant's home is visited, and a detailed report submitted to the Board for its consideration. A child placed on trial for adoption is subject to visitation and removal for reasons satisfactory to the Board. After the child has been on trial for a period varying from a few weeks to several months, the petition, with recommendations, together with a report on the home, is presented to the Board, and if consent is given, the visitor assists the petitioners in making out the papers to be presented to the judge of probate at the appointed time. The visitor is present at the hearing, and is appointed by the court guardian ad litem. The case is then heard, and the decree of adoption granted.

During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 106 children were adopted, viz., 53 children over three years of age and 53 infants.

Pauper Infants.

The whole number of infants, or children under three years of age, in charge of the Board, at the beginning of the official year, October 1, 1905, was 473; the number received since was 368, making the whole number supported by the State 841. There remained November 30, 1906, 444.

Of the infants received, 103 were committed to the custody of the Board by Overseers of the Poor; 7 were received from the State Hospital; 69 were committed by the courts; 2 were removed from unsuitable boarding places; 76 were taken under section 13 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws; and 111 were received under section 36 of the same chapter.

Of the 841 infants supported, 53 were legally adopted; 152 were transferred to the subdivision for children, having reached the age of three years; 80 were discharged to parents or relatives; 4 were discharged to places of settlement; 1 was discharged to the Home for Destitute Catholic Children; 1 to the Boston Children's Aid Society; 1 to the Massachusetts Infant Asylum; and 105 died.

Of the remaining 444 infants, 16 were on trial for adoption without expense to the State.

The 103 infants received from Overseers of the Poor, and the 7 received from the State Hospital, were committed to the Board under section 20 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, which provides that: "The overseers of the poor of a city or town and the superintendent and board of trustees of the state hospital shall commit any indigent or neglected infants which have no known settlement in this commonwealth to the custody of the state board of charity." Most of these infants are in poor condition when received, particularly during the summer months, when, under the most favorable circumstances, infant mortality is greatest. It is not surprising that this class should be in such a pitiable state, when it is taken into consideration that many of them have been placed at board in crowded city tenements, in the least healthful localities, and fed on condensed milk, or on cows' milk, which, if good when bought, soon becomes contaminated by lack of ice and proper care. Under these conditions infants almost invariably become ill. Then, the women who board them, fearing that they may die on their hands, notify the Overseers of the Poor; and if their parents or guardians are not found, the infants are committed to the custody of the State Board of Charity.

The 69 infants from the courts were committed under section 37 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, which provides that: "A police, district or municipal court or a trial justice, upon complaint that any child under sixteen years of age within its or his jurisdiction, by reason of orphanage or of the neglect, crime or drunkenness or other vice of his parents, is growing up without education or salutary control and in circumstances exposing him to lead an idle and dissolute life, or is dependent upon public charity, . . . may commit the child, whether he has or has not a settlement, to the custody of said board until he is twenty-one years of age or for a less time, and said board shall provide for the care and maintenance of the child without expense to the city or town of his settlement and may discharge the child from its custody whenever the object of his commitment has been accomplished." All of these children are suffering from neglect and ill treatment. Some who are brought to the office in the State House are suffering from disease, and from the results of abuse or accident. Before they are allowed to leave the office, their scanty and filthy garments are removed and destroyed, and they are suitably clothed. Then they are sent to the nursery, or directly to boarding places, where they receive medical care. In some cases many months of treatment are required to restore them to health.

The 2 infants taken from unsuitable boarding places were removed under section 26 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, which provides that the Superintendent of State minor wards or other designated officer of the Board may remove to the custody of the Board any child under the age of seven years, not under the personal care of a parent or guardian, who is sheltered or maintained apart from his parents and is not receiving proper care, when he considers such removal necessary for the protection of the child from neglect or abuse. The operation of this law and the Board's system of rigid inspection have broken up, almost wholly, the old-time practice of baby farming.

The 111 infants taken from parents or guardians were received under the provisions of section 36 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, viz.: "The state board of charity may, in its discretion, upon the written application of the parent or guardian, or, if there is no parent or guardian, of a friend, of a child under the age of sixteen years who is dependent upon public charity, or upon written application of the overseers of the poor of the city or town in which such child is found, provide for his maintenance." This law was framed with the intention of providing for infants whose parents or relatives responsible for their support are in need of temporary assistance, on account of sickness or inability to obtain employment.

There were 76 infants given up for adoption by their mothers under section 13 of chapter 83 of the Revised Laws, which provides that: "The mother of an illegitimate infant under two years of age, who is a resident of this commonwealth and who has previously borne a good character, may, in writing signed by her, and with the consent of said state board of charity, give up such infant to said board for adoption; and said state board, if it deems such action for the public interest, may, in its discretion and on such conditions as it may impose, receive such infant and provide therefor. Such surrender by the mother shall operate as a consent by her to any adoption subsequently approved by said board." Under this law, 164 applications were made by mothers to give up their infants for adoption, and 76 were taken. Few of these infants are more than three months old when received, and they are in better condition than infants of any other class, although many are feeble, and require careful nursing and medical attendance before they can be offered for adoption.

Of the 368 infants received since the last report, 333 were sent at once to the nursery, 4 of whom died there. The other 35 were placed directly in families.

The rate of mortality among the infants was 12.48 per cent., an increase of about 2 per cent. over the previous year, which is not surprising when the exceptionally prolonged and debilitating summer is taken into account.

The following tables, regarding the several classes of the Board's children, are self-explanatory.

In the out-patient department 2,714 cases were treated, — 2,101 medical and 613 surgical.

In the hospital for tuberculous patients 623 cases were treated; 250 patients improved, 61 did not improve, and 177 died, leaving 135 on November 30, 1906.

Of the 4,619 persons admitted, 1,323 were born in Ireland, 1,112 in Massachusetts, 516 in British Provinces, 245 in England, 125 in Italy, 86 in Scotland, 49 in Russia, 46 in Austria, 45 in Sweden, 37 in Germany, 36 in Finland, 35 in Greece, 27 in Syria, 26 in Poland, 20 in Turkey, 19 in Armenia, 9 in Portugal, 8 in France, 8 in West Indies, 7 in China, 4 in Norway, 4 in Azores, 4 in South America, 4 in Holland, 3 in Denmark, 3 in Wales, 3 in Belgium, 2 in Switzerland, 2 in Roumania, 2 in Cuba, 2 in Porto Rico, 2 in Algeria, 1 in Hungary, 1 in India, 1 in Australia, 1 in Cape Verde Islands,

1 in Macedonia, 1 in Philippine Islands, 1 in Western Islands, 1 in Bermuda, 1 in Spain, 32 unknown, and the remainder in various parts of the United States.

By the hiring of about twenty outside laborers in addition to the available inmates' labor, great progress has been made toward the completion of the sewage system. Six of the eight filter beds have been finished, and work is well advanced on the others. The deposit of sewage on the new beds was begun December 1, 1906.

The new asylum for women, with a capacity of 100 inmates, which has been under construction for two years past, was finished and occupied October 1, 1906.

Three wards for infectious diseases have been completed, and are now in use.

Work has begun on the new hospital for men, to accommodate 100 patients, authorized by the Legislature of 1906. The crowded condition of the hospital wards demands the early completion of this building, and every effort will be made to have it ready for occupancy in the early Spring.

The new hospital for women consumptives, to accommodate 40 patients, authorized by the Legislature of 1905, is nearly completed, and will be ready for occupancy in the Spring. It is pleasantly situated on sandy soil, on the hill south of the main building, and is surrounded by a young growth of white pine and oak.

Three camps, or shacks, each having accommodations for 20 consumptive patients, have been erected in close proximity to the hospital for consumptive men. They are occupied by the most promising cases, and the results of this outdoor treatment have been very satisfactory. The accommodations for men consumptives now provide for a total of 160 patients. There are still, however, about 50 patients of this class who are cared for in the general hospital, for lack of room elsewhere; and it seems desirable that provision should be made at an early date, either by an addition to the present building, or the erection of a new one, for at least 75 more consumptive patients.

For some time past the Board has presented and urged the need of improvement in the dietary of the State Hospital, especially in that portion devoted to the care of consumptives;

and it is gratifying to report that during the past year very satisfactory changes have been made in this respect. As a necessary result, the per capita cost has been somewhat increased.

The making of some provision for the separation of the children at this institution from the more or less contaminating influence of the adult inmates, most of whom are from the lowest strata of life, and in many instances with a criminal record, is a matter of serious importance. The Board agrees with the Trustees that a building should be erected, outside of the main group of buildings, for the special care and treatment of children.

Cases of Rabies.

The first case of rabies called to the attention of the Board was that of Arthur Guyette, ten years of age, who was admitted to the Hospital July 3, 1906, on application of the Overseers of the Poor of Shelburne Falls. The Board immediately made arrangements with the New York Board of Health, by which antirabitic serum was mailed daily to the Hospital, and administered to the boy, under specific directions, according to the Pasteur treatment. During the next two months and a half, five similar cases were admitted for treatment, but two of them had already developed hydrophobia, and both died two days after admission. The other four cases have been discharged as cured. During the month of December, fifteen cases were received; eight from Lowell, four from Revere, and one each from Melrose, Winthrop, and Chelsea, — two of them being children under fifteen years of age. Most of the cases are being cared for in the isolation wards of the institution, which seem to be admirably adapted for the purpose. As soon as a patient of this class is admitted, an examination is made and conditions are telegraphed to the laboratory of the New York Board of Health. That Board forwards daily a vial of the serum, which is administered by hypodermic injection. The treatment usually covers a period of from three to four weeks, and during this time frequent reports are sent to the New York Board of Health. On the discharge of a patient he is requested, as an extra precaution, to report his condition two or three weeks later.

Applicants for treatment residing in Boston are referred to the Boston City Hospital, which has also made the necessary arrangements with the New York Board of Health, but in all other cases patients are treated at the State Hospital, regardless of the question of legal settlement. The expense of State charges is, of course, paid from the hospital funds; in other cases the charge is $25 per patient, which covers the actual cost of the serum and the sum of $2.80 per week for board and treatment. Those who are able to do so meet this expense themselves; otherwise, the amount is collected from the city or town liable for the support of the patient.

The largest number of all classes of inmates — viz., prisoners, paupers and insane — cared for during the year was 1,934, the smallest, 1,790, and the average, 1,867. The average number of prisoners was 1,120, of paupers 204, and of insane 543. The whole number of admissions was 4,316; of whom 1,821 were born in Massachusetts, 1,162 in Ireland, 332 in British Provinces, 202 in England, 65 in Scotland, 44 in Sweden, 15 in Cape Verde Islands, 19 in Germany, 18 in the Azores, 28 in Italy, 5 in Poland, 9 in Austria, 7 in Finland, 13 in Russia, 9 in France, 6 in Wales, 2 in West Indies, 10 unknown, and the remainder in various parts of the United States.

Of the 3,920 prisoners received, 2,379 had been committed previously, viz., 884 for the second time, 475 for the third, 335 for the fourth, 230 for the fifth, 147 for the sixth, 92 for the seventh, 64 for the eighth, 47 for the ninth, 35 for the tenth, 25 for the eleventh, 21 for the twelfth, 11 for the thirteenth, 3 for the fourteenth, 4 for the fifteenth, 2 for the sixteenth, 1 for the seventeenth, 1 for the eighteenth, 1 for the nineteenth, 1 for the twentieth. Of the commitments, 3,404 were for drunkenness, 295 for vagrancy, 113 for tramping, 49 for idle and disorderly conduct, 8 for vagabondism, and the remaining 51 for sundry other offences.

Of the 3,920 prisoners, 684 were returned from probation, 17 were returned from escape, 5 were transferred from the State Prison, 10 from houses of correction; and of the remaining 3,204, 909 were committed by district courts, 1,387 by municipal courts, 722 by police courts, 146 by superior courts, 27 by trial justice courts, and all others 13.

Of the 284 pauper admissions, 13 were from the prison department of the State Farm; the rest were mostly from the south-eastern part of the State, — 100 being from Fall River, 62 from New Bedford, 19 from Taunton, 29 from Brockton, 2 from Wareham, and 14 from Bridgewater.

Under an appropriation of $40,000, authorized by the Legislature of 1905, the construction of a separate building for paupers is now rapidly approaching completion, and should be ready for occupancy before next Summer. The act provided for no less than two hundred inmates, but there will be ample accommodations for nearly three hundred. The building will be 226 feet long and 43 feet wide, with two floors and a basement; the basement, which is nearly all above ground, being used chiefly for a kitchen and dining-rooms. On the first floor will be dormitories, with a few single rooms for nurses and attendants; and on the second, dormitories and a separate ward for tuberculous cases. The storage and cow barn, under an appropriation of $10,000, is practically completed. The industrial building for the insane, under an appropriation of $20,000, is in process of construction.

The needs of the institution include provision for furnishing and lighting the pauper building, a new laundry building, a new horse barn, and a refrigerating plant.

Probation System.

The Board's rules relative to the release of prisoners from the State Farm provide that prisoners committed for drunkenness, and whose maximum sentence is for one year, shall be released on probation at the expiration of three months from the date of their commitment, if their conduct has been satisfactory to the Superintendent of the institution; that when returned for violation of their parole, they shall remain four months after such return; and that, when returned a second time, they shall remain during the full term. Prisoners committed for other offences, and whose maximum sentence is two years, are entitled to release on probation at the end of nine months from the date of commitment; and these prisoners, if returned, remain during their entire term. The Superintendent of the State Farm is authorized to deduct a period not exceeding thirty days for good conduct from the maximum term of any prisoner; the release of such prisoners is of course a release on probation under the law, but if arrested they are not returnable by the Board, the cases taking their course in the courts. Prisoners on parole, committed and returned to the State Farm by the courts, are held as if returned by the Board, and without regard to the action of the courts.

In connection with these rules, the Board has for some time employed a corps of volunteer probation visitors to watch over released prisoners, and assist them to keep the terms of their parole. These visitors have been recently consulted with respect to the working of the system in their several localities, and asked for the results of their experience. In two or three instances the answers are decidedly unfavorable; but the large majority of the visitors advocate the indefinite continuance of the plan, and a number of them are even enthusiastic about the matter, expressing themselves in the strongest terms as to its value to the community and to the probationers. There has never been any question that a very considerable percentage of persons committed by the courts to the institution on these indeterminate sentences are such hardened offenders that the result of release is an almost immediate return; and for these the full period of incarceration is none too long. But, as the probation visitors unhesitatingly testify, and as the experience of the Board ever since the enactment of the law unquestionably shows, there is a very considerable number for whom the watchful care and oversight of the visitor works direct and definite benefit, — in a large number of cases of permanent value, and in others of sufficient importance to justify the method adopted. The Board fully appreciates the work of the visitors and considers its continuance desirable.

As has been heretofore remarked in the Board's annual reports, one of the most serious questions with regard to the treatment of this whole problem of drunkenness is the situation of the drunkard's family. The drunkard himself is comfortably housed and fed, while, in the large majority of cases, the wife and children struggle along, poorly clad and insufficiently nourished. The prisoner comes out at the end of his term in good physical condition, to return to a home where the family have scarcely had the bare necessities of life. During the last year, in very many instances, the home conditions of the family were so bad that the Board felt justified in setting aside its liberal rules and abridging the sentence of the prisoner, sometimes within a few weeks of his commitment, simply in order that the utmost opportunity might be given to afford the family relief through the work of its head. But such action is always open to question, and the experiment generally fails. In order that these men may serve out their full terms under the rules, and to minimize so far as possible the suffering of the wives and children, and save them from pauperism, it is a suggestion deserving of consideration whether some provision may not be made for securing to the needy family of the prisoner such relief as may keep them from destitution.

Of the 226 boys committed, 7 were fifteen years old, 79 fourteen years, 60 thirteen years, 37 twelve years, 24 eleven years, 13 ten years, 5 nine years, 1 eight years; 5 of them were committed for assault, 48 for breaking and entering, 81 for larceny, 4 for habitual absenteeism, 6 for taking teams, 48 for stubbornness, 27 for other offences, 7 by transfer from the State Board of Charity; 43 were employed when arrested, 86 were attending school, 97 were idle; 126 had been arrested before, 62 had been inmates of other institutions; in the case of 57, other members of the family had been arrested; all but 16 had one or both parents living; 73 had intemperate fathers, 7 had intemperate mothers, and 14 both parents intemperate; 200 were born in the United States, 25 were foreign born, and the birthplace of 1 was unknown. The average time spent in the institution was 17.05 months. Of the commitments, 71 were from Middlesex County, 40 from Suffolk, 28 from Worcester, 24 from Bristol, 24 from Essex, 20 from Hampden, 5 from Norfolk, 5 from Berkshire, 4 from Plymouth, 3 from Barnstable, 1 from Franklin, and 1 from Hampshire. Of the 952 boys under the care of the probation department, 440 were in their own homes.

Under a special appropriation of $22,000 made by the Legislature of 1906, a new cottage is nearly completed; but before it can be used more money will be needed to furnish it.

It might be well if all returned boys were placed in one cottage, and separately classified, so that the more incorrigible ones could be taken out from this single group for transfer to the Massachusetts Reformatory, while the remainder could receive special training and instruction. In this connection the Board renews its suggestion of last year that some provision be made for the establishment of a separate school or institution to meet the needs of this class of returned boys.

Arrangement has been recently made with the several churches of the town whereby sittings are provided for all the inmates of the School at the morning services. In the afternoon separate Sunday School services are held in the School for Catholics and for non-Catholics.

The system of trade instruction has been further enlarged, and now includes instruction in masonry and steam-piping, printing, electrical work, tailoring, shoe making, and painting.

The danger of fire is a constant one; the water supply is poor, and there is no adequate arrangement made with the town fire department. When the barn was burned, several years ago, the fire was beyond control by the time the fire department reached the spot. The Board renews its recommendation of last year that fire drills be instituted in all the cottages.

Of the 126 girls committed during the year, 60 were committed for stubbornness, 3 for leading a vicious life, 8 for being idle and disorderly, 3 for common night-walking, 1 for fornication, 29 for larceny, 1 for vagrancy, 1 for being an habitual school absentee, 2 for being lewd, wanton, and lascivious, 1 for being stubborn and disobedient, 1 for stubbornness and disobedience and larceny, 8 for delinquency, 2 for being wayward children, 1 for drinking, 1 for forgery, 1 for breaking and entering and larceny, 3 for running away; 31 were sixteen years of age, 48 were fifteen years, 20 were fourteen years, 11 were thirteen years, 12 were twelve years, 2 were eleven years, 1 was ten years, 1 was nine years; 83 were born in Massachusetts, 4 in Canada, 3 in England, 6 in the Provinces, 1 in Sweden, 2 in Italy, 1 in Ireland, 1 in Portugal, 3 unknown, and the other 22 in various parts of the United States; all could read and write.

The system of domestic work in the school is planned to cover at least a year, and the courses are given in a building used exclusively for this purpose. Apart from this there is no central instruction; the girls, who are classified so far as practicable according to character, receiving about three hours instruction in the several houses each day. It is to be noted that of the ninety girls coming of age during the past year, although more than half of them had been guilty of serious offences against good morals, nearly three-quarters are now living respectably.

The probation work for girls placed out from the School, under its efficient Superintendent, continues with excellent results.

A cottage near the main building at Bolton is now used for maternity cases. Here the young mothers receive special instruction and training with reference to the proper care of their infants.

The Trustees ask for appropriations for an additional cottage, for a gymnasium, for heaters in the several cottages to supply hot water for bathing purposes, and also for a sewage bed, as recommended by the State Board of Charity a year ago.

The whole number of patients examined for admission to the institution during the 14 months ending November 30, 1906, was 2,102; of these, 897 were accepted, 712 rejected, and 493 declared doubtful. The daily average number was 338. Of the 1,139 patients discharged, 298 are not considered because they remained in the institution not more than one month, or for various other reasons. Of the remaining 841, 329, or 39.1 per cent., are recorded as having the disease arrested and being apparently cured; 438, or 52.1 per cent., as improved; and 74, or 8.8 per cent., as not improved. Of the incipient cases, 74.4 per cent. had the disease arrested, or apparently cured. Of the 841 patients, 782 gained an average of 13½ pounds, and 59 lost an average of 6 pounds.

Of the 1,113 admissions, 383 were from Suffolk County, 245 from Middlesex County, 131 from Worcester County, 98 from Essex County, 69 from Hampden County, 47 from Norfolk County, 47 from Bristol County, 50 from Plymouth County, 20 from Berkshire County, 8 from Hampshire County, 13 from Franklin County, and 2 from Barnstable County.

Applicants for admission to the institution are examined as follows: at the Sanatorium, on any day but Sunday; at the Boston office, in the out-patient department of the Massachusetts General Hospital, on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 1.30 to 3.30 P.M.; at Worcester City Hospital, on Wednesdays and Saturdays from 9 to 10 A.M.; at Worcester Hahnemann Hospital, on Thursdays from 4 to 5 P.M.; at the following places on Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2 P.M.: Springfield, Dr. Everett A. Bates, 57 Chestnut Street; Pittsfield, Dr. R. A. Woodruff, 73 North Street; Fall River, Dr. A. S. McKnight, 355 North Main Street; Lowell, Dr. Boyden H. Pillsbury, 58 Kirk Street; Northampton, Dr. E. H. Copeland, 70 Elm Street, Dr. J. G. Hanson, 55 Kensington Avenue; Greenfield, Dr. Charles F. Canedy, 8 Osgood Street.

The infirmary building, which has been in process of erection for more than a year, is completed and occupied. It is of brick, two stories in height, and contains twenty-four rooms, a diet kitchen, and wide corridors. The floors are covered with linoleum, this being considered more sanitary than the ordinary hard pine floors. It will cost, fully equipped, about $20,000. This expenditure completes the whole appropriation of the sum of $150,000 made by the Legislature of 1903 for the construction of four cottages, with a capacity of not less than thirty-five patients each. Three instead of four cottages have been erected, and the total additional capacity is for seventy patients, instead of one hundred and forty. No use has been made of the appropriations made by the Legislature of 1906, of $500 for a new piggery and $3,500 for a new farmhouse, for the reason that, in the judgment of the Trustees, the appropriations were not sufficiently large for the purposes required.

The Trustees ask for an appropriation of $20,000 to provide for a new farmhouse, a new barn, and a new piggery, an appropriation of $2,000 for additional piazzas, and an appropriation of $5,000 for a new road to the railway station.

In accordance with the recommendation of the Board, endorsed and advised by the Governor and Council, the Trustees have decided to change the mode of administration by appointing a resident medical superintendent, who shall have full medical and executive charge, and to dispense with the services of the visiting physicians. Dr. Walter J. Marcley having resigned to take the position of superintendent of the new State Sanatorium of Minnesota, Dr. Frederic L. Hills, of Concord, has been elected to succeed him, and to assume the duties of superintendent under the new arrangement.

The institution was established primarily for the treatment of incipient cases of pulmonary tuberculosis, but there have never been incipient cases enough to fill it, and at the present time not more than one-third of the patients are actually in the incipient stage; the greater number being in the more advanced stages, who may be improved, but hardly cured. It is the policy of the institution to admit every incipient case at once, so that it is only the more advanced who are obliged to wait for vacancies.

Nominally all patients pay $4 a week each for their care and treatment, but as a matter of fact there were, at the time of a recent visit, 18 patients who had paid the full amount for some time after admission, but being in promising condition, and short of funds, were allowed to remain without payment, and also 35 patients who had similarly paid, but were then working for their board and treatment. The Trustees desire to emphasize the fact that it is the purpose of the institution to comply literally with the requirement of the law, and enforce the payment of $4 a week, allowing exceptions only in extreme cases, and for very imperative reasons. In this connection it is suggested, as a matter for careful consideration, whether, to meet the needs of poor unsettled persons, who have been examined and found to be fit subjects for treatment at the Sanatorium, some arrangement may not be made for an addition of perhaps $1,000 per annum to the funds under the control of the Trustees whereby such persons can be treated free.

It is to be hoped that under the new administration a reduction may be effected in the force of attendants, which now consists of 143 persons working on full time and 13 on part time.

The Massachusetts School and Home for Crippled and Deformed Children.

Under date of January 18, 1907, the Board received the following report from Hon. Leonard W. Ross, Secretary and Treasurer of the Trustees of this institution: —

I have the honor, and am directed by our Board, to inform you that, acting under authority of the Acts of our Legislature for the year 1904, chapter 446, our Board of Trustees have given much time and thoughtful study to the problem presented for their consideration.

There being no similar institution in this country to guide them in this matter, they have been obliged to work on original lines.

After the greater part of several months had been given to the consideration and personal inspection of many sites offered, a lot of land in the town of Canton was recommended for purchase, which recommendation having been approved by His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council, title to this land was passed to the Commonwealth by warrantee deed prepared by the Attorney-General on the twenty-sixth day of January, 1906.

This land contains sixty-five acres, having a frontage of about fifteen hundred feet on Washington and Randolph streets, extending southerly to the shore of Reservoir Pond, so called, a beautiful sheet of clear water about one hundred acres in area. In topography and geological formation, as well as accessibility, this site was deemed best adapted for our purpose, was approved of and designated by the State Board of Health as ideal for the School purposes. It may be reached by main line trains on the Providence Division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, stopping at Canton Junction station. Also, by trolley cars of the Blue Hill Street Railway, running every fifteen minutes from Dudley Street Terminal of the Boston Elevated Railway.

The cost of this land was $11,500.

In the study and preparation of the plans the Board selected Prof. F. W. Chandler of the Institute of Technology as consulting architect, afterwards appointing Winslow & Bigelow, 120 Tremont Street, as working architects. Many of our State institutions were visited by members of the Board; and our Chairman, Dr. E. H. Bradford, M.D., at his personal expense, visited institutions of like nature in Europe.

The Board finds that the entire institution, caring for three hundred pupils, and the necessary officers and attendants, can be built and furnished within the amount appropriated, viz., $300,000.

On December 1, 1906, after approval by His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council, contracts were executed with A. B. Murdough of Watertown for the administration building, boiler house, and laundry building, and two dormitories capable of holding one hundred and twenty pupils; with Lynch & Woodward of Boston for heating and ventilating apparatus; with Pierce & Cox of Boston for plumbing, and with Keough Electric Company of Boston for electric wiring, etc.; and construction work is now in progress. These contracts together amount to $134,087; to which are to be added: architect's commission, $6,638.56; heating, ventilating, and lighting engineer's commission, $1,169.40; approximate cost of furnishings, $9,000; to which must be added cost of land, $11,500; office rent, secretaries' salaries, and other incidental expenses already paid, and estimated to cost when buildings are completed, $10,000; making total expenditure of $172,394.96; leaving a balance of appropriation unexpended of $127,605.04, amply sufficient to complete and furnish three remaining dormitories and other necessary things.

While our Board believe that the dormitories as planned are the best that can be designed for the purpose, they feel that occupancy and actual use, for perhaps one year, will prove advantageous, and feeling that application for admission of the entire capacity of the School will probably not be made at its opening, they have recommended that only the necessary part of the appropriation required to construct and furnish two dormitories, capable of holding one hundred and twenty pupils, in addition to the administration buildings, capable of serving the needs of the entire three hundred pupils, be expended at this time, leaving the balance available at such time as experience and demand require the completion in full.

This recommendation has been approved by His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Council, following which our Board has made contracts as stated, but has actual bids in its possession for the complete institution.

It is our expectation now to open the institution for pupils about September 1, 1907.

The County Truant Schools.

The law provides that the County Truant Schools shall be visited by the State Board of Education and the State Board of Charity, and that each of these Boards shall report on them annually to the General Court. The Schools are as follows: —

Essex County Training School, Lawrence.[1]
Hampden County Truant School, Springfield.
Middlesex County Truant School, North Chelmsford.
Norfolk, Bristol, and Plymouth Counties Truant School, Walpole.
Suffolk County Truant School (Boston Parental), Roxbury.
Worcester County Truant School, Oakdale.

These Schools have all been visited, in accordance with the law. The most important improvements are a new building in process of erection for the Essex County School. The Schools are generally in good condition, and under efficient management. The Suffolk County School is still overcrowded, and in urgent need of better accommodations.

The total number of boys committed to the Schools during the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, was 541; 38 having been committed as "truants," 442 as "habitual truants," 35 as "habitual school absentees," 14 as "delinquent children," and 12 as "habitual school offenders." The number in all the Schools November 30, 1906, was 647. The average number during the fourteen months was 622. The average age of the boys committed was eleven and one-half years; the youngest being seven and one-half years, and the oldest fifteen and three-fourths years. The average net weekly cost per capita was $2.98+.

Legislation of 1906 (Acts of 1906, Chapter 389) provided for the commitment of girls, as well as boys, to the Truant Schools, but the Suffolk County School is the only one that has made special preparation for their reception.

Here follow statistics of the several Schools, and brief statements concerning them.

[1] Name changed from Essex County Truant School to Essex County Training School. (Acts of 1906, chapter 148.)

Essex County Training School, Lawrence.

Established 1891.

W. Grant Fancher, Superintendent.

On October 1, 1905, there were 70 boys in the School. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 52 were committed, viz., 51 habitual truants and 1 habitual school absentee; and 29 were discharged; leaving 93 in the School November 30, 1906. The average number of boys in the School during the fourteen months was 78.8, more than twice the average of the preceding year. The average age of the boys committed was eleven years and three months; the youngest being eight, and the oldest fourteen years. There were no cases of serious illness. Of the boys committed, 42 had been previously before the court, viz., 20 for truancy and 22 for larceny. The average net weekly cost per capita was $1.90+.

The School consists of a wooden building, containing dormitories with 88 beds, school-rooms and Superintendent's quarters. There are 35 acres of land, 15 of which are cultivated. Five men and seven women are employed. About $2,300 was realized in cash receipts from the market gardening.

The new building, for which the Legislature of 1906 appropriated the sum of $5,000, will be ready for occupancy the latter part of the Spring. It will contain the Superintendent's quarters, room for 50 boys, a laundry, and a sewing-room. The barn has been moved about five hundred feet, and an addition built for eighteen cows. A fire-escape has been placed on the old building, and this is now lighted by electricity.

Hampden County Truant School, Springfield.

Established 1880.

Erwin G. Ward, Superintendent.

On October 1, 1905, there were 21 boys in the School. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 26 were committed, viz., 20 habitual truants, 5 habitual absentees, and 1 habitual school offender; and 6 were discharged, 18 paroled, and 1 returned from parole, leaving 23 in the School November 30, 1906. The average number of boys in the School during the fourteen months was 26. The average age of the boys committed was twelve years; the youngest being seven years nine months, and the oldest fifteen years and eight and one-half months. There were no recorded cases of illness. Of the boys committed, 8 had been before the court; all for larceny. The average net weekly cost per capita was $2.92.

The School consists of one building, containing two dormitories with thirty-four beds, one school-room, and the Superintendent's and officers' quarters. There are twelve acres of land, two being used for a garden and the rest for hay. One man and five women are employed. The floors and inside walls of the main building have been recently painted, fire-escapes put on, and general repairs made. All the rooms are now electrically connected with the Superintendent's room, so that all the doors can be instantly opened by him in case of fire.

Middlesex County Truant School, North Chelmsford.

Established 1894.

M. A. Warren, Superintendent.

On October 1, 1905, there were 148 boys in the School. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 107 were committed, viz., 95 habitual truants, and 12 habitual absentees; and 30 were discharged, and 70 released on probation; leaving 155 in the School November 30, 1906. The average number of boys in the School during the fourteen months was 148. The average age of the boys committed was eleven years and eight months; the youngest being seven years and six months, and the oldest fifteen years and four months. There were no recorded cases of illness. Of the boys committed, 11 had been previously before the court, viz., 4 for larceny, 1 for stealing ride on cars, 1 for throwing snow balls, 1 for ringing fire alarm, 1 for assault and battery, 2 for playing dice, 1 for running away from home. The average net weekly cost per capita was $2.38.

The School consists of five brick buildings, containing four dormitories with two hundred beds, school-rooms, and Superintendent's quarters. There are thirty-eight acres of land, of which twenty are cultivated. Eight men and seventeen women are employed. An artificial pond has been made on the grounds, and the ice is kept clear for skating. Last summer the Superintendent started a summer school, and employed as teacher a medical student, who took the boys into the woods in groups, two afternoons each week, and taught them about bird and animal life. They enjoyed it exceedingly, and it will be continued during the coming year.

Norfolk, Bristol, and Plymouth Counties Truant School, Walpole.

Established 1891.

JAMES H. CRAIG, Superintendent.

On October 1, 1905, there were 46 boys in the School. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 59 were committed, viz., 12 habitual truants, 1 habitual absentee, 8 habitual school offenders, and 38 truants; and 43 were discharged; leaving 62 in the School November 30, 1906. The average number of boys in the School during the fourteen months was 51. The average age of the boys committed was eleven and one-half years; the youngest being eight years, and the oldest fourteen years. There were no recorded cases of illness. Of the boys committed, 39 had been previously before the court, for stealing, breaking and entering, running away from home, disturbing the peace, and other offences. The average net weekly cost per capita was $2.91.

The School consists of a wooden building, containing dormitories with sixty-two beds, school-rooms, and Superintendent's quarters. There are thirty-three acres of land, of which five and one-half are cultivated. Two men and six women are employed. There have been no changes of construction during the year, excepting the remodeling and repairing of the barn.

Suffolk County Truant School (Boston Parental), Roxbury.

Established 1886.

DANA P. DAME, Superintendent.

On October 1, 1905, there were 215 boys in the School. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 255 were committed, viz., 14 delinquents, 16 habitual absentees, 3 habitual school offenders, 222 habitual truants; and 22 were discharged, and 246 released on probation; leaving 260 in the School November 30, 1906. The average number of boys in the School during the fourteen months was 268.4. The average age of the boys committed was eleven years, nine months and twenty-nine days; the youngest being seven years and eight months, and the oldest fifteen years and eight months. There were 1,223 cases treated in hospital, viz., 249 hospital patients, 974 out-patients. Of the boys committed, 145 had been previously before the court, for truancy, larceny, bunking out, violating city ordinance, breaking and entering, assault, throwing stones, profanity, and other offences. The average net weekly cost per capita was $4.03.

The School consists of two one-story schoolhouses and a hospital building, all of wood, an administration building and three cottages of brick, and two cottages of wood with plaster exterior. The six cottages contain seven dormitories with two hundred and eighty beds. There are thirty-five acres of land, of which ten are cultivated. Seventeen men and thirty-three women are employed.

An old farmhouse, about half a mile from the main School building, has been hired by the city of Boston to accommodate the girl truants. About $3,000 has been expended for repairs, and the building is now ready for occupancy. It will provide for 15 girls; and there will be a matron, an assistant matron, a school teacher, and a general utility man employed.

The School is still overcrowded. The three new cottages were built to accommodate 30 boys each, but they contain 40. In two of the cottages, the boys' sitting-room and play-rooms have been used for school-rooms. The old buildings are inappropriate, and in summer are very hot on account of their flat roofs.

Worcester County Truant School, Oakdale.

Established 1891.

FRANK L. JOHNSON, Superintendent.

On October 1, 1905, there were 46 boys in the School. During the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 42 were committed, — all as habitual truants; and 12 were discharged, and 22 released on probation; leaving 54 in the School November 30, 1906. The average number of boys in the School during the fourteen months was 50. The average age of the boys committed was eleven years five months; the youngest being nine years and two months, and the oldest thirteen years and eleven months. There were no recorded cases of illness. The average net weekly cost per capita was $3.75+.

The School consists of a brick building, containing dormitories with fifty-five beds, school-rooms, and Superintendent's quarters, besides a gymnasium and an assembly hall. There are eighteen acres of land, four of which are cultivated. Two men and six women are employed. Shower-baths have been placed in the basement, and the system of ventilation is being perfected.

Tuition of Children under the Care and Control of the Board.

Section 4 of chapter 44 of the Revised Laws provides that, "For the tuition in the public schools in any city or town of a child between the ages of five and fifteen years who shall be placed elsewhere than in his own home by the state board of charity . . . or kept under the control of . . . said board in said city or town, the commonwealth shall pay to said city or town . . . fifty cents for each week of five days, or major part thereof, of attendance of every such child in the public schools. For the transportation to and from a public school of any child whose tuition is payable by the commonwealth . . . the commonwealth . . . shall pay to the city or town furnishing such transportation, for each week of five days or major part thereof, an amount equal to the average amount for each child paid by said city or town per week for the transportation of children to and from school over the route by which such child is conveyed."

Under the operation of this law, bills received from 181 cities and towns, for the tuition and transportation of 1,954 children, amounting to $25,992.28, were audited by the Board, and paid by the Treasurer of the Commonwealth, during the 14 months ending November 30, 1906.

The City and Town Paupers.

The law provides that the State Board of Charity may visit and inspect all places where city or town paupers are supported in families, and requires the Board to visit, at least once a year, not only all children who are maintained by the Commonwealth, but all minor children who are supported at the expense of any city or town. Children illegally retained in city or town almshouses, — i.e., pauper children over two years of age, or, if the mothers are inmates, over five years of age, and not defective in body or mind, who have been retained in an almshouse for more than two months, — must be removed therefrom and placed at board at the expense of the city or town concerned. (Revised Laws, chapter 81, sections 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 43; Acts of 1905, chapters, 285, 303.)

For their support there was paid in 60 cases less than $2 per week, in 161 cases from $2 to $3 per week, in 82 cases from $3 to $4 per week; and in the remaining 55 cases, — mostly of old or feeble persons, — the rate varied from $4 to $10, according to the amount of care required. Of the whole number, 189 were reported to be in good or fairly good mental and physical condition. All were apparently receiving good care, with very few exceptions, to which the attention of the Overseers of the Poor was called, with satisfactory results. There were 127 able to do light work, either in the house or at the barn. There were 47 supported in their own homes. In 218 cases, according to the reports, the Overseers of the Poor complied with the law requiring them to visit the paupers at least once in every six months; in 63 cases they made one visit a year; and in 67 cases no visits were made. In the remaining 10 cases the reports were uncertain.

The Penalty incurred by Certain Cities and Towns for Failure to make their Pauper Returns during the Month of April, 1906.

Sections 39–42 of chapter 81 of the Revised Laws, as amended by chapter 115 of the Acts of 1905, are as follows: —

Section 39. Overseers of the poor shall keep full and accurate records, in a form prescribed by the state board of charity, of the paupers fully supported, the persons relieved and partially supported, and the travellers and vagrants lodged at the expense of their cities and towns and of the amount paid for such support and relief.

Section 40. They shall annually, in April, for the year ending on the last day of March, return to the state board of charity the number of such persons supported and relieved, the cost thereof, and a record of those fully supported.

Section 41. In the year nineteen hundred and five and in every tenth year thereafter the return of the overseers of the poor shall contain true and correct answers to such additional inquiries as the state board of charity may deem it advisable to make.

Section 42. If the overseers of the poor of a city or town refuse or neglect to comply with the requirements of the three preceding sections, such city or town shall forfeit one dollar for each day's neglect, and the amount of such forfeiture shall be deducted from any amount to which said city or town may be entitled in reimbursement for relief of state paupers as provided in sections fifteen and sixteen of chapter eighty-five; and if no such reimbursement shall be due to said city or town, the forfeiture shall be deducted from any money which may be due to it from the Commonwealth.

Immigration.

Under an agreement made, March 28, 1894, between the State Board and the Treasury Department of the United States, and continued under the recently established Department of Commerce and Labor, the Commonwealth is reimbursed from the immigrant fund, created by head-tax collections, for the support of such alien immigrants as have entered the State, fallen into serious distress, and become a public charge, within one year after their landing in the country, — such distress having arisen from causes existing subsequent to their landing. In cases where the causes of distress existed prior to landing, and the immigrants have become a public charge within three years after landing, it is the duty of the steamship companies bringing such immigrants into the United States to carry them back again, and also to reimburse the State for the expense of their support. In both instances the claim, if finally established, is allowed from the date of the first notice by the State Board to the United States Commissioner of Immigration for the ports of Massachusetts.

Under the provisions of the contract the Board reported to the Commissioner of Immigration, during the fourteen months ending November 30, 1906, 376 cases of immigrants who had fallen into distress, of which 223 were verified and allowed. Of the remaining 153, 71 were not verified, 23 were discharged from hospital before investigation by the United States officials, 29 were withdrawn, 21 were paid for by relatives or friends, 3 died, and 6 were not landed within the year. Of the 223 cases allowed, 122 were Boston landings, 96 New York, 2 New Bedford, 2 Philadelphia, and 1 Portland. They were cared for as follows: Boston City Hospital, 115; State Hospital, 41; Worcester City Hospital, 10; Salem Hospital, 7; House of Mercy, Springfield, 4; Fall River City Hospital, 4; Malden Hospital, 3; Massachusetts Homœopathic Hospital, Boston, 3; Worcester Isolation Hospital, 3; Burbank Hospital, Fitchburg, 2; Holyoke City Hospital, 2; Quincy Hospital, 2; Lynn Hospital, 2; North Adams Hospital, 2; Frost Hospital, Chelsea, 2; Cottage Hospital, Lawrence, 2; Waltham Hospital, 2; Lawrence, 2; State Farm, 1; Haverhill City Hospital, 1; House of Mercy, Pittsfield, 1; Boston Lying-in Hospital, 1; Somerville Hospital, 1; Marlborough Hospital, 1; Newton Hospital, 1; Almshouse Hospital, Holyoke, 1; Springfield Almshouse, 1; Cambridge Contagious Hospital, 1; Adams, 1; East Douglas, 1; Everett, 1; Gardner, 1; Palmer, 1. The amount received by the Board and transmitted to the Treasurer of the Commonwealth during the fourteen months was $1,943.34, viz., $1,651.27 from the immigrant fund, and $292.07 from steamship companies.

[Acts of 1906, Chapter 413.]

AN ACT RELATIVE TO DELINQUENT CHILDREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The word "court," whenever used in this act, shall be construed to mean a police, district or municipal court, or a trial justice.

The words "probation officer" shall be construed to mean a probation officer or assistant probation officer of the court having jurisdiction of the pending case.

The term "delinquent child" shall be construed to mean any boy or girl between the ages of seven and seventeen years, who violates any city ordinance or town by-law, or commits an offence not punishable by death or by imprisonment for life.

The words "wayward child" shall be construed to mean a boy or girl between seven and seventeen years of age who habitually associates with vicious or immoral persons, or who is growing up in circumstances exposing him or her to lead an immoral, vicious or criminal life.

SECTION 2. This act shall be liberally construed to the end that the care, custody and discipline of the children brought before the court shall approximate as nearly as possible that which they should receive from their parents, and that, as far as practicable, they shall be treated, not as criminals, but as children in need of aid, encouragement and guidance. Proceedings against children under this act shall not be deemed to be criminal proceedings.

SECTION 3. If complaint is made to any court that a boy or girl between the ages of seven and seventeen years is a wayward child or a delinquent child, said court shall examine on oath the complainant and the witnesses, if any, produced by him, and shall reduce the complaint to writing, and cause it to be subscribed by the complainant.

If said child is under fourteen years of age, said court shall first issue a summons requiring it to appear before such court at the time and place named therein, and such summons shall be issued in all other cases, instead of a warrant, unless, in the judgment of the court, there is reason to believe that he or she will not appear upon a summons, in which case, or in any case in which a child has been summoned as aforesaid and did not appear, said court may issue a warrant reciting the substance of the complaint, and requiring the officer to whom it is directed forthwith to take such child and bring it before said court to be dealt with according to law, and to summon such witnesses as shall be named therein to appear and give evidence at the examination.

A child under fourteen years of age shall not be committed to a lock-up, police station or house of detention, to a jail or house of correction, to the state farm, or the house of correction at Deer island in the city of Boston, pending an examination, in default of bail, or for the non-payment of a fine, except as provided in sections five and nine, or upon conviction of any offence not punishable by death or imprisonment for life: provided, that a boy twelve years of age or over, arrested in the act of violating a law of the Commonwealth, or on a warrant, may, in the discretion of the arresting officer, be committed to a lock-up, police station or house of detention.

Whenever a child under seventeen years of age has been committed to a lock-up, police station or house of detention the probation officer and at least one of its parents, and, if there is no parent, then the person with whom such child resides, shall be notified at once of said commitment. The officer of the place of custody in which such child is confined, on the written request of the probation officer, shall release such child to him, unless the officer who made the commitment shall make a written request for his detention. Said probation officer shall notify such child of the time and place of the hearing of its case.

Section 4. If a boy or girl is brought before such court upon a warrant, or has been summoned to appear, as provided in the preceding section, a summons shall be issued to at least one of its parents, if either of them is known to reside within the city or town where such child was found, and, if there is no such parent, then to its lawful guardian, if there is one known to be so resident, and if not, then to the person with whom such child resides, if known. Said summons shall require the person upon whom it is served to appear at a time and place stated therein, and show cause why such boy or girl should not be adjudged a wayward or delinquent child, as the case may be. If there is no such parent, guardian or person who can be summoned as aforesaid, the court may appoint a suitable person to act in behalf of such child.

If such child is summoned, the time for appearance fixed in the summons to a parent, guardian or other person, as herein provided, shall, when practicable, be the same as that fixed for the appearance of said child.

A summons required by this act, unless service thereof is waived in writing, shall be served by a constable or police officer, by delivering it personally to the person to whom it is addressed, or by leaving it with a person of proper age to receive the same, at the place of residence or business of such person; and said constable or officer shall immediately make return to the court of the time and manner of the service.

If the court shall be of opinion that the interests of an alleged wayward or delinquent child require the attendance, at any proceedings, of an agent of the state board of charity, and shall request such attendance, of said board, an agent thereof shall attend such proceedings, to protect the interests of said child.

Section 5. Hearings upon cases arising under this act may be adjourned from time to time. A child that has been adjudged by the court a wayward or delinquent child may appeal to the superior court, and such child shall, at the time of such adjudication, be notified of its right to appeal. The appeal, if taken, shall be entered, tried and determined in like manner as appeals from trial justices in criminal cases. The provisions of section thirty-four of chapter two hundred and seventeen, and of section twenty-two of chapter two hundred and nineteen of the Revised Laws, relative to recognizances in cases continued or appealed, shall be applicable in cases arising under this act.

A child under fourteen years of age, who has been held for examination or trial, or to prosecute an appeal to the superior court, if unable to furnish bail, shall be committed to the care of the state board of charity or of a probation officer. The person to whose care it is so committed shall provide for its safe keeping and for its appearance at its examination or trial, or at the prosecution of its appeal.

A child fourteen or more years of age, so held, if unable to furnish bail shall be so committed to a probation officer, unless the court, upon immediate inquiry, shall be of opinion that, if so committed, such child will not appear at such examination or trial, in which case said child may be committed to jail.

Said probation officer shall have all the authority, rights and powers, in relation to a child committed to his care under this section, and in relation to a child released to him, as provided in section three, which he would have if he were surety upon the recognizance of such a child.

Section 6. Courts shall designate suitable times for the hearing of cases of juvenile offenders, and wayward or delinquent children, which shall be called the session for children, for which a separate docket and record shall be kept. Said session shall be separate from that for the trial of criminal cases, and as far as practicable shall be held in rooms not used for such trials. No minor shall be allowed to be present at any such hearing unless his presence is necessary, either as a party or as a witness, or, in the opinion of the court, in the interests of justice.

Section 7. Every case of a wayward child or a delinquent child shall be investigated by the probation officer, who shall make a report regarding the character of such child, his school record, his home, his surroundings and the previous complaints against him, if any. He shall be present in court at the trial of the case, and furnish the court with such information and assistance as shall be required. At the end of the probation period of a child that has been placed on probation, the officer in whose care it has been shall make a report as to its conduct during such period.

SECTION 8. At the hearing of a complaint against a child the court shall examine such child, and any witnesses that appear, and take such testimony relative to the case as shall be produced. If the allegations against a child are proved, it may be adjudged a wayward or delinquent child, as the case may be.

If a child is adjudged a wayward child, the court may place it in the care of a probation officer for such time and upon such conditions as may seem proper, or may deal with it in the manner provided by law for the disposal of the case of a neglected child.

If a child is adjudged a delinquent child, the court may place the case on file, or may place the child in the care of a probation officer for such time and on such conditions as may seem proper. If it is alleged in the complaint upon which the child is so adjudged, that a law of the Commonwealth has been violated, the court may, with the consent of the state board of charity, authorize said board to take and indenture such child, or place it in charge of any person, and if at any time thereafter such child proves unmanageable, to commit such child, if a boy under fifteen years of age, to the Lyman school for boys, or if a girl under seventeen years of age, to the state industrial school for girls, until such child attains the age of twenty-one years. Said board may provide for the maintenance, in whole or in part, of any child so indentured or placed in charge of any person.

The court shall also have power to commit such delinquent child to any institution to which it might be committed upon a conviction for such violation of law, excepting a jail or house of correction, and all laws applicable to a boy or girl committed upon such a conviction shall apply to a delinquent child committed under this section.

SECTION 9. If a child has been placed in care of a probation officer, as provided in this act, said officer, at any time before the final disposition of the case, may arrest such child without a warrant and take him before the court, or the court may issue a warrant for his arrest. When such child is before the court, it may make any disposition of the case which it might have made before said child was placed on probation, or may continue or extend the period of probation.

If the court shall find that such child has violated the conditions of its probation, it may impose a fine, not exceeding five dollars, and if the fine is not paid at once, in whole or in part, may order that said child stand committed to a jail until the same is paid, but not exceeding five days. Said court shall suspend the execution of said order and continue the probation for such time as it shall fix, unless in the opinion of the court such child will default. Said fine may be paid to the probation officer, whereupon the order for commitment shall be void. If at the end of the period of such suspension the probation officer shall report that said fine is unpaid, the court may extend such period, or place the case on file, or revoke the suspension of the execution of the order of commitment. If the fine, or any part thereof, is paid to the probation officer, he shall give a receipt therefor, shall keep a record of the payment, shall pay the same to the clerk of the court at its next session, and shall keep on file the clerk's receipt therefor.

Section 10. A disposition of any child under this act, or any evidence given in such case, shall not, in any proceeding, in any court, be lawful or proper evidence against such child for any purpose, excepting in subsequent criminal proceedings, or subsequent cases of delinquency or waywardness against the same child.

Section 11. If it shall be alleged in a complaint made under this act that a boy or girl has committed an offence against a law of the Commonwealth, or has violated a city ordinance or town by-law, and the court shall be of opinion that his or her welfare, and the interests of the public, require that he or she should be tried for said offence or violation, instead of being dealt with as a delinquent child, the court may, after a hearing on said complaint, order that it be dismissed. Criminal proceedings shall not be begun against any child between the ages of seven and fourteen, except for an offence punishable by death or imprisonment for life, unless proceedings against it as a delinquent child have been begun and dismissed as aforesaid.

Section 12. If, in adjudging a person to be a delinquent child, the court shall find, as an element of such delinquency, that he has committed an act involving liability in a civil action, and such delinquent child shall be placed on probation, as herein provided, the court may require, as a condition thereof, that he shall make restitution or reparation to the injured person, to such an extent and in such sum as the court shall determine. If the payment is not made at once, it shall be made to the probation officer, who shall give a receipt therefor, shall keep a record of the payment, shall pay the money to said injured person, and keep on file his receipt therefor.

Section 13. If a boy or girl is adjudged to be a wayward child or a delinquent child, as defined by this act, a parent of such child who is found to have been responsible for such waywardness or delinquency, shall be punished by a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment in jail for not more than six months.

Section 14. The state board of charity shall have authority to supervise the probation work for wayward and delinquent children, and to make such inquiries as it considers necessary in regard to the same, and in its annual report may make such recommendations as it considers advisable for the improvement of methods of dealing with such children.

SECTION 15. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

SECTION 16. This act shall take effect on the first day of September in the year nineteen hundred and six.

Approved May 24, 1906.

[ACTS OF 1906, CHAPTER 489.]

AN ACT TO ESTABLISH THE BOSTON JUVENILE COURT.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. A court is hereby established in the city of Boston, to be known as the Boston Juvenile Court.

SECTION 2. Said court shall consist of one justice and two special justices, who shall be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council. There shall be a clerk of said court who shall also be appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, for a term of five years. In case of the absence, death or removal of the clerk, the court may appoint a clerk pro tempore, who shall act until the clerk resumes his duties, or until the vacancy is filled. The said court shall have a proper seal, and all processes issuing therefrom shall be under the seal of the court, shall be signed by the clerk, and shall bear the teste of the justice of the court, unless his office is vacant, in which case it shall bear the teste of a special justice of the court.

SECTION 3. The justice of the said court shall be paid a salary of three thousand dollars per annum. The special justices shall be paid for each day's actual service at the same rate as the rate by the day of the salary of the justice of the court; but compensation for services in excess of thirty days in any one calendar year shall be deducted by the county treasurer from the salary of the justice of the court. The clerk shall receive an annual salary of fifteen hundred dollars. The said salaries shall be paid by the county of Suffolk, in the same manner as the salaries of the justices, special justices and clerks of the municipal court of said city are now paid. Suitable rooms for the sittings of the court and for the officers thereof shall be provided in the Suffolk county court house.

SECTION 4. All the jurisdiction, authority and powers vested in the municipal court of the city of Boston or the justices thereof, or which are conferred upon municipal courts by chapter four hundred and thirteen of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and six, which involve the trial, sentencing, commitment or other disposal of a child under the age of seventeen years, or the receiving of complaints and the issuing of summonses, warrants or other processes in relation thereto, or which relate to the care of neglected children, under chapter three hundred and thirty-four of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and three, and acts in amendment thereof or in addition thereto, are hereby transferred to, and vested in, the court hereby established, and in the justice and special justices thereof; and the said court shall have jurisdiction over such other matters as may come before it under this act. All the provisions of law which relate to police, district or municipal courts, to the justices, special justices and clerks thereof, or to the rights, duties and liabilities of parties to proceedings therein, shall, so far as they may be appropriate, apply to said court, its justice, special justices and clerk, and to the parties to proceedings therein, except as herein otherwise provided. The court hereby established may continue from time to time the hearing in respect to any child given under the provisions of this act, and may commit such child to any institution to which a district or municipal court in the city of Boston is now, or may hereafter be, authorized to commit such child, or may impose any penalty which said courts are authorized to impose. The court may from time to time make general rules in reference to, and provide forms of, procedure.

Section 5. So far as possible the court shall hear all cases in chambers; and all persons, whose presence, in the opinion of the court, is not necessary, shall be excluded from the room.

Section 6. The justice of the court hereby established shall appoint two probation officers, each of whom shall hold office during the pleasure of the said justice, and shall have general authority to serve such process as may be directed to either of them by the court. The provisions of chapter two hundred and seventeen of the Revised Laws, and of all other statutes now or hereafter applicable to probation officers connected with courts in the city of Boston, shall, so far as they may be appropriate, apply to said probation officers, except as herein otherwise provided. The justice may also appoint as many deputy probation officers, without salary, as he may deem desirable. They shall assist probation officers in such ways as the court may direct in making investigations of cases of children against whom complaints have been made, and in the care of children who have been placed on probation.

Section 7. In case a warrant is issued by the court for a child's arrest, or in case a child between the ages of seven and seventeen years is arrested without a warrant, as provided by law, in order to avoid the incarceration of the child, if practicable, the officer to whom said warrant is delivered, or who has arrested the child without a warrant, as the case may be, may, unless the justice or magistrate of the court issuing such warrant has otherwise directed in the warrant, accept the written promise of the parent, guardian or person with whom it is stated that said child resides, or any other reputable person, to be responsible for the presence of said child in court at the time and place when the child is to appear, and at any other time to which the hearing in the case may be continued or adjourned by the court. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the admitting of said child to bail, in accordance with sections twenty-nine and thirty of chapter two hundred and seventeen of the Revised Laws.

SECTION 8. It shall be the duty of the superintendent of the Boston public schools, and of any teacher therein, and of the person, society or corporation in charge of any private school, and of the teachers therein, to furnish to the said court from time to time any information and reports requested by the justice thereof relating to the attendance, conduct and standing of any pupil under his, her or its charge, if said pupil is at the time under the charge of the court hereby established.

SECTION 9. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 10. This act shall take effect upon its passage, so far as the appointing, commissioning and qualifying of the justice, special justices and clerk of the court hereby established are concerned; and it shall be in full force and effect, and the authority and jurisdiction of the court hereby established and of the probation officers thereof shall begin, on the first day of September in the year nineteen hundred and six, except that the municipal court of the city of Boston shall have power to dispose of all cases of juvenile offenders or neglected children which may be pending before it when this act takes full effect. Approved June 15, 1906.

[ACTS OF 1906, CHAPTER 501.]

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE SUPPORT OF WIVES AND MINOR CHILDREN.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. Whoever unreasonably neglects to provide for the support of his wife or minor child or minor children, or who actually abandons his wife or minor child or minor children without adequate support, or leaves them in danger of becoming a burden upon the public, shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months. Proof of neglect to provide for the support of wife or minor child shall be prima facie proof that such neglect is unreasonable.

SECTION 2. All fines imposed under the provisions of the foregoing section may, in the discretion of the court, be ordered to be paid in whole or in part to the wife or to the city, town, corporation, society or person actually supporting the wife or minor child at the time the sentence is imposed, or to the treasurer of the Commonwealth for the use of the state board of charity, if the minor child has been committed to said board.

Section 3. If a person convicted under the provisions of this chapter is placed on probation or if his sentence is suspended and he is placed on probation under the provisions of chapter three hundred and thirty-eight of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and five, the court may require, as a condition of such probation, in addition to such other conditions as the court may deem proper, that such person pay from time to time to the wife, or to the probation officer, or to such person as the court may designate, such reasonable sum as the court may direct for the support of the wife or minor child, and the court may also require as a further condition of such probation that such person give a bond, with or without sureties, in a sum not exceeding two hundred dollars, to the justice of said court and his successors that he will make such payments. Suit may be brought upon said bond by any person authorized by the court, and the proceeds of the suit shall be applied to the support of the wife or minor child, as the court shall direct. The court may place the case on file on similar conditions and may take it from the files at any time. The court may at any time in its discretion modify and alter the conditions on which a person is placed on probation or on which his case is placed on file.

Section 4. The court may order any sums paid under the provisions of the foregoing section to be paid over in whole or in part to the city, town, corporation or society supporting the wife or minor child at the time the sentence is imposed, or to the treasurer of the Commonwealth, for the use of the state board of charity, when the complaint is for neglect to provide for the support of a minor child or of minor children who have been committed to the custody of said state board.

Section 5. Complaints under the provisions of this chapter may be made by the wife or by any other person to the municipal, district or police court or trial justice of the district in which the husband and wife or either of them are living or in which they last lived together.

Section 6. The provisions of this act, so far as they are the same as those of existing statutes, shall be construed as a continuation thereof and not as new enactments.

The 4 corporations which failed to return reports sent back for correction are as follows: Red Acre Farm, Incorporated, Stow; Roxbury House Association, Boston; Talmud Torah Hebrew Free School of East Boston, Boston; Women's Clubhouse Association of Magnolia, Gloucester.

Of the 461 corporations making complete reports, the total running expenses (including the sum of $1,657,031.58 paid to 5,669 officers or other employees) were $5,609,026.61; the total amount of property owned and occupied for corporate purposes was $20,463,680.20; and the total amount of investments, $29,240,476.83.

The sources of the income of these corporations were chiefly as follows: subscriptions and donations, $1,446,839.31; bequests, $1,191,268.95; income from investments, $1,152,463.94; entertainments, $114,094.06; on account of paying and partly paying beneficiaries (including $22,651.98 in the form of admission fees to homes), $1,775,106.07.

The whole number of beneficiaries reported was 454,297 (besides 8,039 families), of whom over 300,000 were aided free, the remainder either paying or partly paying for the service rendered.

There were in active operation 64 institutions or homes for adults, 52 for children, and 9 for both adults and children; and 65 hospitals.

In view of the large amount of money contributed annually by the charitable people of the State for the support of these institutions, it certainly appears that there should be some efficient way of knowing that the purpose of such contributions is being properly fulfilled. This consideration is of special importance with reference to homes for aged people and for children. The very fact of the incorporation of these homes by the State gives them a standing that similar institutions, strictly private, do not hold, and doubtless leads many benevolent people to contribute to their maintenance on that ground. For the information and assistance of such charitable givers, as well as for the better protection of the helpless who find their way into the homes, it is the judgment of the Board that provision should be made for inspection of the homes by some central authority.

REPORT

OF THE

STATE BOARD OF CHARITY

PART III

THE CITY AND TOWN ALMSHOUSES

AND

THE PAUPER ABSTRACT

THE CITY AND TOWN ALMSHOUSES.

Laws relating to Almshouses.

The laws relating to almshouses, so far as the State Board of Charity is concerned, are in substance as follows: —

The State Board of Charity is required to visit all city and town almshouses, and to include in its Annual Report a statement of their condition and management, with its suggestions and recommendations relative thereto. (Revised Laws, chap. 84, sect. 5.)

The only children who can be lawfully supported in a city or town almshouse for a period of more than two months are: (1) those who are so defective in body or mind as to make their retention in an almshouse desirable; (2) those who are under two years of age; (3) those who are under five years of age, with mothers who are almshouse inmates and suitable persons to aid in taking care of them. In cases of failure of Overseers of the Poor to remove children illegally in almshouses, the State Board of Charity is required to remove them and provide for them otherwise, at the expense of the city or town concerned. (Revised Laws, chap. 81, sect. 6; Acts of 1905, chap. 303.)

Provision is made that tramps and vagrants, as well as criminals, shall be confined in separate and distinct quarters in all almshouses, and shall not be permitted to associate or communicate with the pauper inmates. (Acts of 1905, chap. 348.) Almshouse officials knowingly violating this law are liable to be punished by a fine of not more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (Acts of 1904, chap. 274.)

The State Board of Charity is authorized to advise with and assist Overseers of the Poor in the preparation of plans for almshouse buildings. (Acts of 1905, chap. 162.)

Each master or warden of an almshouse is required to keep a register of all almshouse inmates, in a form prescribed by the State Board of Charity, and to submit it to the Overseers of the Poor at their request. (Revised Laws, chap. 30, sect. 17.)

Inspection of Almshouses.

In addition to visits made from time to time by committees and individual members of the Board, it is the duty of the Board's inspector to make a regular yearly inspection of all the almshouses, and also to visit them at such other times as circumstances may require, with reference to unsatisfactory conditions, new buildings and repairing of old ones and preparation of plans in connection therewith, complaints of inmates, and other matters of importance. Under the law requiring all pauper children supported by cities and towns to be visited by the State Board of Charity (Revised Laws, chap. 86, sect. 50), the inspector visits and reports on all children in almshouses. Added to these visits are frequent calls upon the chairman and other members of the local overseers of the poor. The inspector's reports are made monthly to the Board's Committee on Almshouses, and special reports are presented as occasion may demand.

It is from the inspector's reports that the abstracts are made which here follow. They consist largely of dry details, but they are carefully scrutinized by the local authorities, and there can be no question that their annual publication enhances the value of the visitation, and acts in a great degree both as a preventive of unsatisfactory conditions, and as an incentive to improvement in management and general betterment.

The Work of the Volunteer Visitors.

Less than two years ago the Board instituted the system of appointing women as unpaid almshouse visitors in as many of the almshouse towns as practicable; and visitors are now under appointment for more than half of the almshouses. It is intended to secure for this purpose women of experience, tact, and good judgment, who are interested in the work and are glad to undertake it for its own sake. The visitors are given to understand that their duty is primarily missionary service in the best sense of the term, — that is, a system of friendly intercourse with the inmates by persons who have a sincere interest in their welfare and an unselfish desire to aid and comfort them. They are also advised that, in addition to this service, it is hoped to obtain, by opportune inquiry on the part of the visitor, some knowledge of conditions and causes of poverty which cannot easily be secured in any other way. It is impressed upon the visitors that it is of the utmost importance that they act in harmony with the Overseers of the Poor, consulting and coöperating with them so far as practicable, and, if possible, in however small degree, sharing and lightening the exacting and laborious duties of these officials. They are enjoined to report, unreservedly, any instances of mal-administration which may come to their notice. They are expected to make at least two regular reports to the Board in each year and special reports at such times as may seem desirable. Occasional meetings of the visitors are held, at which an opportunity is afforded for interchange of views and the receiving of advice.

From a large number of the visitors interesting and valuable reports have been received, on matters relating to the management of the almshouses and the character of the inmates. Without specifying the visitors or the almshouses concerned, a summary of leading points in these reports is here presented.

In the matter of the relations between the management and the inmates, with a few marked exceptions, the reports agree in very satisfactory statements. Such phrases as the following occur: Inmates happy; matron excellent, all like her. . . . Matron possesses much tact; pleasant relations between her and inmates. . . . Cordial relations between matron and inmates; sick and weak-minded greet her as a friend. . . . All like matron. . . . Inmates on friendly terms with matron. . . . Inmates very fond of matron. . . . Inmates say pleasant things about matron. . . . Inmates attached to warden and matron; atmosphere conducive to peace and kindness. . . . Management kind and firm. . . . Inmates speak of good care of matron. . . . Matron and warden kind and careful. . . . All love and obey matron, who is a natural nurse, firm and tender-hearted. . . . Matron a motherly, whole-souled woman; inmates have only words of praise for her. . . . Matron with young infant, very intelligent and attractive; inmates very fond of her; say they never had a cross word from her. . . . As an exception to these statements may be cited the following: Warden rough and coarse, but a good farmer; wife young and inexperienced; little personal care of inmates, except in extreme illness.

In nearly all cases the visitors appear to have placed themselves on the desired footing with the management. For instance, there are reports such as these: Pleasantly received by matron. . . . Matron pleasant and obliging; welcomes inspection. . . . Matron welcomed me warmly. . . . Am made very welcome. . . . Have known matron and warden for thirteen years. . . . Was met cordially by matron. On the other hand may be noted instances of a different state of affairs, as, for example: Matron not cordial; I am allowed to see only such parts of institution as attendant shows. . . . Matron never sees us.

While friendly relations between visitors and Overseers of the Poor may not be satisfactorily established in all instances, there is evidence from the reports that this has very generally been accomplished. For example: Chairman of Overseers very courteous, glad of suggestions, and thinks visits cannot fail to be beneficial. . . . One of the Overseers was glad to have a woman visitor; says she is a better judge of some needs than a man. . . . Mayor and city almoner heartily coöperate with me. . . . Chairman of Overseers a personal friend.

Tangible results of visitation are not readily stated; they can be largely inferred, however, from the following items: Have carried magazines and newspapers. . . . Secretary of Cheerful Letter Society will help supply magazines and papers. . . . Visited with a friend, who carried tobacco and candy. . . . Am trying to supply later magazines. . . . Have carried books and papers. . . . Am collecting illustrated magazines for inmates. . . . Have supplied matron with old linen and cotton for emergency cases; also with pictures, and calico for patchwork. . . . Many unable to read from lack of glasses; I have asked for these from friends, and there will soon be an ample supply. . . . At every visit I carry reading, flowers, etc. . . . Carry magazines, material for work, etc. . . . On Christmas, with members of club, carry gifts for all inmates. . . . Took seeds for inmates to plant in yard. . . . Pupils of my school carry fruit and candy at Christmas. . . . Have arranged for monthly visits by members of Woman's Club. . . . Am doubly paid for each visit made. I am told they talk of one visit till I come again. . . . Have induced a mother to keep her infant, born in almshouse, instead of giving it up to State; and have found places for two boys.

The visitors report relatives of inmates who are able to support them in a number of instances. Many visitors make careful statements with regard to individual inmates, their age, general condition, apparent causes of poverty, etc.; but these are not sufficiently numerous or exact to admit of any satisfactory deductions. The following general items may be noted: Yard made attractive with flowers. . . . An ideal almshouse. . . . All glad to work, as far as they can. . . . An abundant meal being served. . . . Beautiful grounds; approach attractive with flowers; air contaminated by garbage, kitchen full of flies. Sunday evening services in winter, fortnightly entertainments by outsiders. . . . A reading-room being suggested by matron, an inmate, who is a carpenter, constructed a very pleasant apartment out of an unused room, two closets, and a small piazza. Books and magazines have been supplied, and inmates are greatly pleased. . . . Different churches hold Sunday evening services. . . . Matron has a large supply of canned fruit and preserves prepared by herself. . . . Girls' Friendly Society makes visits; occasionally Episcopal rector visits with choir boys. . . . Flowers in windows; food excellent and abundant. (Weekly bill of fare given.) . . . Great advantage to almshouse that one of the Overseers of the Poor is a woman. . . . Three hundred visits from friends, relatives, and towns-people during year. . . . Catholic inmates can attend services at a Home near by; Protestants have no such privilege. . . . Go about freely. Flowers on lawn. Special piazzas for inmates; services in dining-room every Sunday. . . . Inmates allowed to go about town, and twice a week receive callers. . . . Sunday services every other Sunday, for Protestants only. . . .

Overseers do not send any one to almshouse if private assistance can be obtained. . . . Almshouse cheery, grounds delightful; flowers, vine-covered piazzas; magazines, photographs, etc. . . . Inmates take great interest in each other; each invalid has a self-appointed nurse. . . . Religious services attempted, but without success. . . . Little reading matter or entertainment; attendants too few in number, and inefficient; small, unattractive yard for women; no flowers, no piazza. . . . Beautiful situation and surroundings, like a private residence. Wives of Overseers and ladies from churches visit almshouse. . . . Some inmates leave and work for themselves in summer, but generally spend their money foolishly and return dirty and ragged. Special room for sick. Clothes from laundry seemed white and clean. No religious services. Food good and abundant. (Menu given.) . . .

Construction.

Of the 202 almshouses, 168 have buildings wholly of wood, 19 of brick, 1 of stone, and 14 of different kinds of construction. In 146 almshouses one or more sitting-rooms are provided for the use of the inmates; the other 56 have no sitting-rooms. There are in all a total of 3,802 sleeping-rooms and 86 wards or dormitories. In 128 there are fully equipped bath-rooms, 7 having a total of 15 shower-baths also; in 24 the bath-rooms are partly equipped, and 50 have no bath-rooms. In 124 there are water-closets. In 15 the heating is by hot water, in 100 by steam, in 14 by hot air, in 61 by stoves, and in 12 by a combination of two or more of these methods. Oil furnishes light for 155, electricity for 39, gas for 5, gas and electricity for 2, and oil and candles for 1. In 51 fire-escapes are provided, as well as other means of protection against danger from fire; 4 have fire-escapes, but no other fire protection; 108 have no fire-escapes, but are provided with other fire protection; and 39 have neither fire-escapes nor other fire protection.

Management.

In nearly all the almshouses the direct management is in the hands of a warden and matron, whose combined salaries average about $542, in addition to board and lodging. In the following towns the almshouses are managed by a matron alone: Boxford, Charlestown, Carver, Dana, Mattapoisett, Provincetown, and Richmond; and in Southbridge by a warden alone. One or more assistants are employed in a large majority of cases, and these are generally paid by the town, but in a few cases by the warden. Sometimes the warden is expected to perform other services for the municipality, without extra compensation. The greatest length of service in any one place is that of Barnstable and Waltham, where the warden and matron have served for 25 years; in Wakefield there has been a like service of 24 years; in Concord of 23; in Lexington, Plymouth, and Somerset, of 22; in Lee and Pittsfield, of 21; in Watertown, of 20; in Haverhill, of 19; in Manchester, of 18; and in Hingham and Newburyport, of 16 years.

Inmates.

The whole number of inmates of all the almshouses at the time of visitation was 4,428, viz., 2,474 men, 1,821 women, and 133 children, — i.e., persons under 21 years of age; the largest number in any one almshouse being 751, — in Boston (Long Island), and the smallest, 1. Among the other large almshouses may be mentioned Lowell, with 345 inmates; Lawrence, with 199; Fall River, with 232; Worcester, with 154; Holyoke, with 134; and Haverhill, with 110. The ages of the inmates were as follows: 39 under 2; 27 between 2 and 5; 40 between 5 and 15; 27 between 15 and 21; 149 between 21 and 30; 307 between 30 and 40; 537 between 40 and 50; 777 between 50 and 60; 1,086 between 60 and 70; 976 between 70 and 80; 408 between 80 and 90; 55 between 90 and 100. In 58 of the almshouses there was a complete separation of the sexes; in 50 there was no separation; in 35 they were separated except at meals; in 26 at night only; in 28 the inmates were all of one sex; in 4 there were no inmates; in 1 the separation was complete except that the sitting-room was used in common. Of the whole number of inmates, viz., 4,428, 3,852 were reported as permanent and 576 as temporary; and 2,244 had relatives in town.

Defective Conditions.

In about a score of towns unsatisfactory conditions were noted by the inspector and reported to the Board. These related chiefly to such matters as insufficient heating facilities, inadequate water supply, need of repairs, absence of provision against danger from fire, and lack of proper bathing conveniences. The following cities and towns may be mentioned in this connection: Agawam, Amherst, Carlisle, Hardwick, Haverhill, Hopkinton, Medfield, North Reading, Rehoboth, Sutton, Tyngsborough, Warren, West Boylston, and Woburn. In every instance the attention of the Overseers of the Poor was called to the matter without delay, and, with very few exceptions, these officials were prompt in arranging for a remedy of the defects complained of, either by availing themselves of funds at their disposal, or by urging the voters to make a special appropriation at the next regular town meeting or at an extra meeting held for the purpose.

Improvements.

In an unusually large number of almshouses improvements of different kinds have been made during the year, — in many cases in consequence of suggestions from the Board, and in others by voluntary action on the part of the local authorities. Some of these improvements have consisted of papering and painting only, but in many cases more important renovations have been effected. Ayer, Falmouth, Hardwick, Hopkinton, Provincetown, West Boylston, Westfield, and Wrentham have either established or made provision for new heating systems; Brockton has spent a considerable amount on a new pantry, milk-house, etc.; Oxford has made extensive general improvements; Pittsfield has provided a new bath-room; Maynard has a new bath-room and water-closet; and at Long Island there are a new dining-room for women, new toilet-rooms, and other improvements. In Cohasset, Framingham, and North Brookfield new almshouses have been built. Other places to be noted under this head are: Acton, Adams, Ashfield, Barnstable, Barre, Belchertown, Beverly, Cambridge, Canton, Chelmsford, Dudley, Easthampton, Holyoke, Milton, Rowley, Seekonk, Sharon, Townsend, Weymouth, and Wilmington.

Almshouse Plans.

Under the law providing for consultation of the local authorities with the Board in the matter of almshouse plans, the inspector has advised with the Overseers of the Poor of Beverly, Carlisle, Cohasset, Dennis, Fall River, Foxborough, Framingham, Haverhill, Lee, Lowell, Marshfield, Medfield, North Brookfield, Taunton, Warren, and Woburn. The Board is of the opinion that the wishes of Overseers of the Poor would be met, and better results accomplished, by a change in the law making it mandatory upon town officials about to rebuild or remodel their almshouses to have plans for such construction approved by the State Board of Charity; and an amendment of the law to this effect is here recommended.

Bathing.

In 184 almshouses weekly bathing was required, in 8 was not required, in 4 was required in summer only; in 3 the bathing was fortnightly, in 1 once in three weeks, in 1 weekly in summer and fortnightly in winter, and in 1 only occasionally.

Labor.

In 20 of the almshouses the inmates performed no labor. In 182 a total of 1,447 inmates did work of different kinds in the house and other buildings, and on the farm. This work was often light and not continuous, but in many cases it was of such a nature as to be of material value.

Defectives.

In 181 almshouses there was a total of 993 defective inmates, of whom 37 were reported as insane, 265 idiotic, 50 epileptic, 495 cripples, 109 blind, 4 deaf and dumb, 1 feeble-minded, 12 idiotic and crippled, 8 feeble-minded and crippled, 5 epileptic and crippled, 4 blind and crippled, 1 insane and epileptic, 1 blind and epileptic, 1 blind and idiotic. The patients reported as insane or idiotic were nearly all of the quiet and harmless class; but a few cases of a more serious nature were reported to the Board of Insanity, and the majority of them were committed to hospitals for the insane at the instance of that Board.

Consumptives.

There were 189 consumptive patients found in 24 almshouses, as follows: Adams, 1; Amesbury, 2; Attleborough, 2; Boston (Long Island), 115; Charlton, 1; Chicopee, 1; Easthampton, 1; Fall River, 7; Groton, 1; Holyoke, 10; Lawrence, 9; Lowell, 10; Malden, 1; New Bedford, 1; Pittsfield, 1; Plymouth, 1; Rockland, 1; Salem, 1; Sherborn, 1; Springfield, 4; Taunton, 5; Warren, 2; Weymouth, 2; Worcester, 9. It was reported that in Boston (Long Island), Fall River, Holyoke, Lawrence, Lowell, New Bedford, Salem, Springfield, Taunton, and Worcester, these patients were receiving special treatment and diet; that in Adams, Amesbury, Charlton, Chicopee, Easthampton, Groton, Pittsfield, Plymouth, Rockland, Sherborn, Warren, and Weymouth, they received no special treatment or diet; and that in Attleborough and Malden they received special treatment but no special diet. The Board has strongly advised the management of almshouses caring for consumptives that this class of inmates receive in all cases special treatment and diet, and also that they be kept entirely separate from the other inmates. Legislation to this effect may be desirable.

Vagrants.

Of the whole number of almshouses, 61 received and cared for a total of 7,900 vagrants during the year, this being 28 almshouses less than the year before, and 15,441 vagrants less than the year before. The largest number of vagrants so cared for was 1,862, at Lowell; and the smallest, 2, at Spencer and Sterling. In 28 almshouses they were required to work, and in 30 they were not so required. In 4 instances they were fed only, and in the remaining 57 they were fed and lodged. In all but 2 cases they were wholly separated from other inmates, as the law requires, and in these 2, as soon as the attention of the Overseers of the Poor was called to the matter, provision was made for the separation. The extraordinary reduction in the number of the vagrants is due to various causes, but chiefly, no doubt, to the operation of the law requiring the entire separation of this class of paupers from other inmates, under penalty of fine or imprisonment or both. To effect the separation required would demand in most cases such enlargement and reconstruction of the almshouse as the town officials were rarely ready to make; and so, as the readiest solution of the difficulty, they have simply refused to receive and care for vagrants in the almshouse.

Note. — Of the $61,228 expenses reported as "extraordinary" $44,940 was paid for construction, improvements and repairs at almshouse establishments; the balance, $16,288, is largely made up of payments on account of previous years, improperly classed with this year's expenses. Additional expenditures, amounting to $2,564, which might be considered as extraordinary, have been reported among current expenses, and are so classed in the table. Table V., on pages 152–3, shows by counties in more detail the nature of the expenditures and the sources of income other than town appropriations. By both tables it will appear that while the total pauper expenditures by cities and towns were $2,519,658, the repayments from all sources amounted to $512,664, — one-fifth of the whole, — leaving as the net expenses $2,006,993.
